

BIG OFFENSIVE IN BALKANS

RAILROAD CRISIS IS UNDER DISCUSSION

Executives Not Ready to Reply
But Administration Hopeful for Settlement—Conferences Held

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The answer of more than sixty railroad presidents, including those of western roads newly arrived to President Wilson's proposal for averting the threatened strike was being formulated today. Every utterance of the railroad heads displayed opposition to the president's suggestion, but it was considered possible a counter proposal acceptable to the employees would be made as the basis for further negotiations.

A committee had in charge the framing of a reply and it appeared doubtful that it could be finished today. The employees' committee of 610 continued to mark time and considered issuing a statement, refusing charges of the railway heads that the president's settlement plan would provide virtually a 25 per cent wage increase, rather than an actual eight hour work day.

A statement issued by the railroad executives said it was impossible to believe public opinion would favor giving up the principle of arbitration and the granting of $50,000,000 increased wages to one-seventh of all railway employees who belong to the union brotherhoods, "without a hearing before a public tribunal."

Petitions bearing signatures of 50,000 employees, not members of the brotherhoods, protesting against a strike, were on file at the white house today.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Lowell was well represented at the monster convention of the Federation of Catholic societies which opened today in St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city.

At the pontifical mass celebrated at 11 o'clock by His Eminence Cardinal Farley, Rev. Francis Mullin of St. Michael's church, acted as chaplain to Bishop Schrimbs, the head of the Toledo diocese. In the evening Fr. Mullin led the Lowell delegation at the mass meeting held in Madison Square Garden at which 16,000 people were present, representing every state in the Union from Maine to California.

Dr. R. J. McCluskey bore the Boston pennant, which, with the Papal and American flags, heralded the entrance of his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell to the hall. Besides Fr. Mullin and Dr. McCluskey the delegates present were: Rev. John Flynn, O.M.I. and Rev. Fr. McDermott, O.M.I. of the Sacred Heart church; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Sullivan, Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, Miss Mary Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Maguire, Miss Anne Duffy, Dr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Sarah Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Morrissey, Miss Margaret J. McCluskey, Dr. Joseph A. Mohan, Mr. James Heaney, Mr. John J. Sullivan, Mr. Timothy Rohan, Mr. George Grady, Mr. John V. Donoghue.

At four o'clock this afternoon Cardinal O'Connell received the Boston delegates in the hall room of the Astor House. The affair was very informal and was thoroughly enjoyed by all fortunate enough to be present. After the reception the cardinal spoke briefly and later called upon Mr. Deshail, who

Delegates Attend High Mass at St. Patrick's Church — Many Women Visitors — Business Sessions This Forenoon—Delegates Welcomed by Mayor O'Donnell—Banquet Tonight

The thirty-seventh biennial state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians is in full swing in Lowell and the city is filled with delegates, some of whom have experienced more or less difficulty in securing hotel accommodations. The delegates began to arrive yesterday forenoon and some did not arrive until this morning. The local committee had everything well in hand and the only difficulty experienced was in hotel accommodations, but that has been pretty well ironed out as the hotel proprietors and managers have done all in their power to make room for the visitors.

The convention opened last night with a grand ball at Associate hall and though the weather was a bit too warm for comfort, the prettily decorated hall was well filled with delegates and everybody was happy. There were a great many women in evidence and all were very enthusiastic. There were many happy meetings and the evening's program was thoroughly enjoyed. The committees in charge are entitled to a great deal of credit for the manner in which arrangements were carried out. This morning, at 10 o'clock, the delegates attended high mass at St. Patrick's church and the beautiful edifice was crowded to the doors.

After mass the men and women met at Associate hall, the women holding a business meeting later in Prescott hall. A feature of the forenoon session was the welcoming of the delegates to the city by Mayor James E. O'Donnell. The piece de resistance this evening will be the banquet at the Rollaway. Should the business program be carried along as planned, the convention will adjourn some time late Wednesday. James F. Miskella will be the toastmaster at the banquet. Continued to page two

Women Make Statement to the Mayor — His Honor Declares
More Policemen are Needed

Mrs. Martha Van Dyke White, Merrimack square, Agent Bates of chairman of the Special Aid society for American Preparedness, accompanied by two other women who are endeavoring to make Lowell a cleaner city, held a conference with Mayor James E. O'Donnell in his office in city hall this forenoon relative to improving the conditions in two places in particular in this city, both of which are within a short distance of obliged to travel thousands of miles. As the Bosphorus is closed by the Turks to the Russians, they were deprived of the short sea route and it is possible they traveled by the Atlantic route and reached Saloniki by way of Gibraltar and the Mediterranean. Today's despatches regarding the military developments on the Macedonian front indicate that the engagement is becoming general all along the 150 mile line.

Immediately to the north of Saloniki, in the Dolran region, Serbian troops are reported to have captured two forts, while in the heaviest fighting so far reported on the left bank of the Struma, northeast of Saloniki, the Anglo French forces are attacking the Bulgarians to the northwest of Seres.

On the western end of the line the Bulgarians claim notable advances, some of which are conceded by the entente military authorities. Their forces have pressed southward from Florina, occupying Kastoria and Kozlita, the former town being 30 miles southwest of Florina.

For the moment at least, the operations on the eastern and western fronts are overshadowed by those in the Balkans. The entente offensive, however, is proceeding uninterruptedly on both these fronts. In northern France the French have resumed infantry activity along the Somme, capturing trenches near Estrees and Soyecourt, south of the river. They also have made progress north of the stream, in the outskirts of Clercy, which village is an important immediate objective of the French in their drive for Peronne.

The British on the Somme front are slowly creeping nearer to Thiepval, on their left flank, their latest advance bringing them within one thousand yards of the place. They also report a considerable gain of ground near Pozières, where they have pushed forward along a half mile front. Guillebert, northwest of Cambrai, is still holding out, although the British are fast hemming it in and report the Germans in the town suffering heavily from the allied artillery fire.

Petrograd reports the situation unchanged in Galicia, Volhynia and the Carpathian region, but claims the gain of further ground from the Turks in southern Turkish Armenia, west of Lake Van. In Persia the Russians, who have been driven back a considerable distance in recent operations, now appear to be making a successful stand against the Turkish forces.

Solemn High Mass

At 10 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated, the men delegates occupying the center aisle, while the women filled the pews in the side aisles. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Edward Fitzgerald, pastor of the Holy Rosary church, Clinton, who was assisted by Rev. William A. Dickey of Gilbertville as deacon and Rev. George P. O'Connor of Malden as sub-deacon. Rev. Joseph A. Corby of St. Patrick's church, this city, acted as master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Mr. William O'Brien, P.R., of St. Patrick's church; Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of St. Michael's; Rev. James F. McDermott, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church; Rev. John J. Ryan, P.R., of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, and Rev. Timothy P. Callahan of St. Patrick's.

The church quartet, composed of Miss Alice E. Murphy, Mrs. James H. Morris, John J. McNabb and Andrew J. McCarthy, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, who also presided at the organ, rendered Turner's St. Cecilia's mass. As a processional the choir rendered "The Cross and the Flag," a recessional, "Faith and Fatherland," by the same author. After the elevation Andrew J. McCarthy sang in splendid voice Hargitt's "O Salutaris." The ushers at the church were George F. O'Meara and James A. Sheehan of Div. 1; John Murphy and Joseph McOsker of Div. 2 and Edward J. Flannery of Div. 3.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. John J. Ryan, P.R., pastor of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, chaplain general of the A. O. H., was the preacher. He spoke on the providential mission of Irish in America and said in part: "This is only what is expected preparatory to a convention of this kind, a religious ceremony. The order of Hibernians sprung up with a love for the altar and through its existence has been an imperial guard defending the priest and church. It is impossible to speak of Hibernianism without one entering upon the ground of religion, because its spirit and purposes are drawn from a religious stage. "Direct attention only a single thought, which is the steadfast recognition of authority that has actuated its life and purposes. This is strikingly shown by the progress of the church in America." Reference was made by the preacher to the stream of immigration to the new world, one setting out from Spain and entering in by St. Augustine, Fla., following the gulf states to the Pacific; the other, from the eldest daughter of the church, France, flowing down the St. Lawrence to the gulf and along the Mississippi. Settlements were made by different people and from other motives than those which animated the Spanish and French, who sought here money. sions. Then the people from Erin came, not of their own free will, but driven by persecution.

They held steadfast to authority and asking only fair play. They started here and along the Atlantic, coming through the ports of New York, Philadelphia, and Boston and as it is, not having rounded three-quarters of a century as yet, they have succeeded to rear the church, in a way that has astonished the world.

The great archdiocese of New York, Philadelphia and Boston number one quarter of the 29,000,000 of Catholics in this country, and they are energizing influences, joining with later accession of immigrants from other lands with a view of building a church throughout the United States that will preserve Christian principles and Christian civilization.

The society has obligations to meet for a new epoch in this day of freedom shall have come. Now go forth from this temple of St. Patrick's to legislate on the broadest lines, taking a world view in all deliberations and setting aside any petty differences, or self seeking efforts. God and St. Patrick are the watchword. Remember and live by those and Hibernianism shall go on imperishable to the end of time.

At the close of the mass Joseph J. Johnson rendered a delightful program on the chimes and among the selections played were the following: "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "The Columbian," "The Wearing of the Green" and others and the large gathering of men and women remained on the grounds of the church until the chimes concert was over and many vowed their appreciation of the article music.

Shortly before noon the delegates including the women of the auxiliary gathered in an associate hall and were welcomed by John P. Sheehan, chairman of the convention committee, who introduced as the first speaker, Hon. James E. O'Donnell. The mayor was given a cheering reception and he extended an address of welcome, speaking in part as follows:

The Mayor's Address

As mayor of Lowell, I bid you welcome to our city and in so doing permit me to assure you that you will find yourselves in one of the best cities in America, and in the house of your friends. When you go abroad from this hall it matters not whether your steps may take you to what mission you may be bent, you may be assured of honest dealing, courteous, hospitable treatment and you will find a good Hibernian there to greet you and assist you in the transaction of whatever business you may have to transact. In Lowell, you will find a few of the oldest Hibernians in point of membership in the entire United States. While I believe you will meet many of the younger men in years, for our American born Hibernians in Lowell vie with those who came from across the water in numbers and enthusiasm.

The city of Lowell has had a long and honorable career and among the earliest of its settlers were the Irish. Today they are among the most numerous, most respected and most influential of its citizens, holding positions of honor and responsibility in every walk of life. The city of Lowell has never had occasion to regret their presence and they in turn have never been called upon to blush for the misconception of any of their own.

They have played a prominent part in the development and progress of the city and have ever been a strong factor in its success. They have commanded the respect of all.

I hope that your deliberations will be harmonious throughout and productive of great good for the organization. I want you all to make yourselves thoroughly at home, while among us, and if there is anything you may desire, ask for it.

President Donnelly Responds

John F. Donnelly, president of the state A.O.H., responded in fitting terms, accepting in behalf of the hundreds of delegates the cordial welcome extended by the mayor. Mrs. McNamee, state president of the auxiliary also addressed the gathering and she was followed by D. J. Murphy of this city, first president of the state organization. Following the discourses a private business meeting was held in the course of which reports of committees were heard.

Last Night's Grand Ball

The convention opened last evening with a reception and grand ball complimentary to the delegates and friends in Associate hall. Although the torrid weather was anything but propitious for an indoor event there was an attendance of nearly 1000 men and women from all parts of the state who greatly enjoyed the program presented and spoke highly of the reception committee of the convention.

The program opened about 8 o'clock after a busy afternoon assigning the delegates to their headquarters. Many did not arrive in this city until early in the evening and they were not able to be present at the opening of the program but nevertheless they made their way to the evening. The hall was handsomely decorated for the event. Green and white were the prevailing colors with red, white and blue bunting and numerous American flags used to advantage in the decorative scheme.

At 8 o'clock a musical program was given by Sheehan's orchestra. This continued, much to the enjoyment of the delegates, until 6:15 o'clock when the exclamation of the degree work by teams from Division 29 of Milton

The members of the winning team were: Patrick J. Lally, Michael J. Kelley, —An initial brigade of Russian troops has arrived at Saloniki to join the entente allies fighting in the Balkans.

The arrival of the Russians has created a profound impression here. Even the Royalists, who have consistently opposed participation in the war by Greece on the side of the entente allies, seemed almost stunned by the news that Russian troops had arrived to take the part in the campaign which under other conditions might have been taken by the Greek army.

The general feeling here is that the bringing in of Russian troops has dispelled definitely the dream of a great Greek victory which was conceived a year and a half ago by the then premier Venizelos, who carried Greece well on the way toward entrance in the war with the entente allies.

It is regarded as possible that the presence of Russian forces in Macedonia will effect a change in the attitude of Bulgaria.

In some quarters irritation is displayed at the recent foreign policy of the Greek government which is said to have overlooked the interests of this nation.

OCCUPATION OF KASTORIA BY BULGARIANS IS CONFIRMED—CIVIL POPULATION IN FLIGHT

ATHENS, via Paris, Aug. 22.—The occupation of Kastoria and Gorytsa by the Bulgarian troops is confirmed by news from an official source says that the German field marshal, August von Mackensen, is with the Bulgarians.

The military movements of the entente allies are hindered by the flight of the civil population before the Bulgarian advance.

Kastoria is 25 miles south of Monastir on the extreme left of the entente in Macedonia. It lies about 30 miles southeast of Shkridin.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen was reported at Kovel in July to direct operations against the Russians in Volhynia.

The seizure of the road between

Florina and Koritsa, as well as that between Koritsa and Kastoria, also is announced in the statement which bears the date of Aug. 20, and reads as follows:

"On account of the military operations of the entente in the Vardar valley extending east of the Struma north of Tachimo lake, our left wing began on Aug. 18 a general offensive. Bulgarian troops advanced in the Struma valley, occupied the town of Demir Hissar and after an engagement near the town of Seres, repulsed the British and French on the right bank of the Struma and occupied the left bank between Bulkov and Tachimo lakes. Dashed between following their orders, advanced between the Struma and the Mesta.

"In the Vardar valley British and French troops have been during the past ten days unsuccessfully attacking our advance positions south and southwest of the town of Doiran, suffering heavy losses from our infantry and artillery fire.

"Our right wing, after a victory over the Serbians near Florina, successfully pursued our plans. Yesterday we occupied the railroad stations of Banica and Ekshilo on the railroad from Saloniki to Florina and re-established railroad connection with Monastir. South of Presha lake we occupied the villages of Zvezdabitsiplos and Brestitza, thus interrupting definitely connections between Koritsa and Florina, as well as between Koritsa and Kastoria."

FIGHTING ON SALONIKI FRONT BECOMES MORE GENERAL, SAYS FRENCH DESPATCH

PARIS, Aug. 22, 9.35 a. m.—The fighting on the Saloniki front is becoming more general, says a Havas despatch filed yesterday at Saloniki. In the Doiran section Serbians troops have captured three Kaimakadar and Cuccura.

The heaviest fighting is on the front northeast of Saloniki, on the left bank of the Struma river, from Kavajala to Barakli, on the western end of the line hostilities are confined for the most part to artillery.

PARIS REGARDS LANDING OF ITALIANS IN BALKANS AS DEEPLY SIGNIFICANT

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The Italian contingent of troops landing at Saloniki is of important proportions, according to information here. In addition, the terms in its review of the military situation today alludes to the presence of Russian troops along the Vardar river, which if confirmed, would make five allied contingents engaged in the entente campaign in the Balkans.

The announcement of the landing of Italian troops at Saloniki is regarded here as deeply significant, indicating an important reinforcement of the already large army of the entente allies, composed mainly of French, British and Serbian troops. The Italian movement also is construed as showing that comprehensive political agreements have been arranged in advance with withdrawal from the Balkan campaign on the part of the entente allies over the predominance of their influence in the eastern Mediterranean. The participation of Italians in the Balkan campaign also is considered another evidence of the international spirit prevailing among the allies and as compared to the sending of Russian contingents to France. By this movement the allies are distributing their effectiveness far beyond their own borders.

ROMANIA'S ATTITUDE CONSIDERED A NEW PHASE IN BALKAN HISTORY

PARIS, Aug. 22.—All the morning newspapers comment at length on the possibility of Roumania joining in the war. The meetings that are in progress and the general tone of comment is that all the various developments in the situation are being seriously considered and the general ton of comment is that the decisive moment for Roumania's action has arrived.

The operations of the Bulgarian armies in Macedonia are interpreted in some quarters as having been undertaken solely with a view to influencing the decision of Roumania. On all sides it is agreed that a new phase in Balkan history is opening, and the decision by the press of the various diplomatic phases of the Roumanian situation is followed by an examination of the strength of the Roumanian army.

The statement is made on good authority that the number of Roumanian troops that can be mobilized exceeds 300,000 and that the army is in the best of condition after a long preparation.

AGITATION FOR WAR HAS BEEN AT FEVER HEAT IN ROMANIA

BERLIN, Aug. 21, via London, Aug. 22.—The Budapest-Az Est, which is usually well informed on the Roumanian situation, today prints a despatch from its Bucharest correspondent saying that the agitation for war, which in the last few days has been at fever heat, has subtly cooled down. It is stated that possibly the end of the mobilization is responsible for the change, if not the serious words uttered in the Hungarian parliament.

(This is the first hint of a Roumanian mobilization that has been permitted to pass the allied censorship. Almost nothing on the Roumanian military situation from the entente viewpoint has come through since the Balkan situation in its present phase reached a critical stage.)

The Budapest despatch adds that there is no doubt that Premier Bratiano has reached an understanding with the entente, so that further negotiations are unnecessary now for actual participation in the war. Meanwhile, the semi-official Roumanian press is savagely attacking the conservative organs which undertook to discuss mobilization and related measures.

More ammunition from France and Russia is asserted to be arriving. The white heat of discussion in Bucharest political circles is now directed to subsiding, despite the alleged imminence of the final step. This is asserted to be due to the failure of the Russians to keep up their recent successes and to the proximity of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to the Roumanian border.

RUSSIANS ASSIGNED POSITION AT SALONIKI WITH SIBERIAN TROOPS

ATHENS, Aug. 22, via London.—After a conference of the French, British, Serbian and Russian commanders at Saloniki today, it was decided that the newly arrived Russian force should take up positions, with the Serbian troops on the southern front of Serbia.

The Serbo-Russian force was placed under a combined staff of which the crown prince of Serbia is the nominal commander. The Russian general, Friedericetz is in actual command.

PETER RALLS INJURED

Peter J. Ralls, a pipe-fitter, residing at 255 High street, had a narrow escape from being badly injured about 10.15 o'clock this morning when he was caught in a shafting at the Waterbury mill and suffered severe bruises about the arms and body.

Ralls was standing on a ladder while his clothing came in contact with the shafting and caused the injuries which necessitated his being taken to St. John's hospital, where he received treatment.

MAN EATING SHARK

CAUGHT IN BOSTON HARBOR
AFTER LIVELY BATTLE—ONE MAN NEARLY DROWNED

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—After a three-hour battle, during which one man narrowly escaped death, a 650-pound shark, the largest ever brought to this city, was captured yesterday morning in Boston harbor by two Italians of the power dory fishing fleet. The captors of the monster were Salvatore Bova and Carmelo Scavuzzo. They sighted the shark on Boston Light about 11 o'clock, Sunday night. The big fish was following the dory. The fishermen turned around and Bova drove a harpoon into the body of the shark.

Enraged by the stroke of the harpoon, the shark charged the dory and, lashing its giant tail, upset Scavuzzo. He was thrown into the water almost in the jaws of the maddened fish. Scavuzzo swam back to the boat while his partner kept the shark's attention by drawing the line attached to the harpoon.

For some time the two men battled with the big fish. Once it came so near the boat that Bova was able to strike its head a hard blow with an oar. This seemed to stun the shark and shortly after the fishermen landed their prize.

They received $30 for the shark from an Atlantic avenue fish dealer yesterday.

SULLIVAN ALL RIGHT

CHAMPION ENDURANCE SWIMMER WILL TRY PROVINCETOWN TO NANTASKET AGAIN

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Resting comfortably in Winthrop and suffering from nothing more serious than a severe sunburn, Henry Sullivan of Lowell, holder of both the American endurance and long distance swimming records, spent yesterday, the first day after his terrible ordeal in the water of 20 hours and 27 minutes. Just as serenely as a man who might have swum 100 yards the Lowell swimmer rested all day, receiving telegrams of congratulatory letters and flowers from enthusiastic friends.

Modest, but willing to talk of his experiences and sensations while swimming, Sullivan's appearance belied the statements of experts who have decried the swim as too grueling for any swimmer. Moreover, he has announced his intention of again attempting the swim, providing the right man approaches him.

A SPECIAL SESSION

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Governor McCull announced yesterday that he would call a special session of the legislature.

It is expected that the session will be called some time during the first week of September, when the supreme court is expected to announce its decision on the Suffolk county apportionment case.

While there is no certainty that the court will declare the apportionment to be unconstitutional it is evident that this decision is anticipated.

In the statement made by Acting Secretary Long outlining the reasons for calling the session it is declared that the governor will recommend that provisions be made for the care of dependent families of members of militia on the Mexican border and that a special act will be passed allowing the soldiers to vote for presidential electors and for the United States senate.

OUR ANNUAL 10 DAY AUGUST FURNITURE SALE NOW GOING ON—ENDS AUGUST 29th

THE IMMIGRATION BILL

President Says He Will Veto it if Bill Includes the Literacy Test

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Wilson informed cabinet members today that he would veto the immigration bill if it is passed by congress with a literacy test. There have been reports that he might sign the bill but the president stated emphatically today that he is still opposed to it because of the test.

The president said he was indifferent whether congress passed the bill again, as he was determined not to sign it. The word that he would veto the bill went to the capitol and was expected to stop efforts to put the bill through in the senate.

President Wilson vetoed the measure when it was before him on a previous occasion.

The president's announcement which settled the question, arrived just when the democrats were continuing their party row over the action of the nine democrats who refused to be bound by the caucus which decided to let the bill go over and the leaders of the revolt were making, castle fealties to the republicans of Senator Stone.

On the president's word that he would veto the bill, revolting democrats turned about and voted against the motion to take it up. They were Senators Beckman, Chamberlain, Cullen, Benson, Lane and Overman. They made the vote 22 to 23.

Senators Ashurst, Hardwick, Myers, Smith of South Carolina, and Vardaman, all democrats, however stuck to their votes to take it up.

The senate's action means that efforts to consider the bill at this session probably will be dropped.

GOVERNMENT SHIPPING BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The government shipping bill, as amended by the senate, was on the house program for final disposition today. The house was expected to concur in the senate amendments and send the bill to President Wilson for his approval.

The principal senate amendments propose to prevent this government shipping board from acquiring ships from any nation now at war and permit foreign built ships to enter the American coastwise trade.

ARMY APP. BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, August 22.—Without the revised articles of war, to portions of which President Wilson and the war department objected, the house today re-passed the army appropriation bill. The senate is expected to insert an acceptable provision and the house expected to later accept it. President Wilson vetoed the bill because of portions of the revision, which would strip the army of its right to acquire ships.

CRITICAL DAY AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, August 22.—This was a critical day in determining the administration's legislative and adjustment program. Ten insurgent senate democrats voting with republicans, threatened to cause immediate action on the immigration bill which a democratic caucus had agreed to put over until the December session. Should the attempt be successful, it probably would seriously disarrange plans for early adjournment.

The revolt among democrats came yesterday, when Senator Smith of Carolina, democratic chairman of the immigration committee, moved to take up the immigration bill. The motion was carried and debate on the measure started. The revenue bill took precedence, automatically, at a certain hour, however, and Senator Smith moved to replace it on the calendar with the immigration bill. This motion was still pending today. Administration leaders claimed enough of the insurgents would reverse themselves to defeat the motion.

HIS SPEAKING TOUR OFF FOR CAMP

WM. J. BRYAN WILL START ABOUT SEPTEMBER—CHAMP CLARK SENDS MONEY JACK

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—William J. Bryan's speaking tour in behalf of President Wilson will begin about Sept. 15, and will continue to election day. It was announced today at National democratic headquarters.

It is planned to have Mr. Bryan speak in every eastern and middle western state except Missouri and Michigan.

Speaker Champ Clark of the house of Representatives, today returned to headquarters the money advanced to him for expenses in opening the democratic campaign in Maine last week. Mr. Clark in a letter explained that the payment of his own expenses for speech-making constitutes the only way he can legally contribute to the cause and that he had never yet accepted a cent of expense money from national democrats.

OLD FASHIONED WALTZ

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The old fashioned waltz will supplant the aerobically tango in the ballrooms of the nation, if the National Association of Dancing Masters has any influence. In convention here today the dancing professors decreed that the tango must go. The waltz the one-step and the fox trot will be the fashionable favorites this season.

MR. EXAUDIAS DUPONT

OLD AND WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF LOWELL DIED SUDDENLY TODAY

Exaudias Dupont, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly today at his home, 447 Moody street. Deceased was 73 years, 2 months and 22 days old and had been a resident of this city for the past 47 years.

Mr. Dupont, who retired from active work about 15 years ago, never complained of being ill and this morning, despite his advanced age he seemed to be enjoying the best of health. He chatted with his wife and shortly before noon while seated in his arm chair, he passed away. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two sons, Arthur and Ernest J. and a sister, Mrs. Fabien Descelles, the latter of St. Hyacinthe, Que. Mr. Dupont was favorably known in Lowell as a real estate owner.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning from the home, 447 Moody street at 8:30 o'clock. Solemn high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock. Friends invited. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers Amelie Archambault & Son.

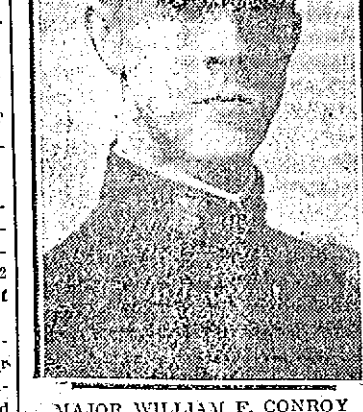

PRESIDENT VETOES BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Pres. Wilson today vetoed a bill allowing cities and towns to buy public lands, including forest lands in their vicinity, for parks, cemeteries and sewerage. The president vetoed the bill on the ground that the national forests should not be utilized in that way.

O.M.I. Cadets Gone to Milligan's Grove for Four Days

The day looked forward to by the O.M.I. cadets as the "best in the year" has arrived. At 1:15 o'clock this afternoon, nearly 150 of them assembled in their drill shed in the immaculate Conception school hall, dressed in their khaki uniforms and under the command of Major William F. Conroy marched to the corner of East Merrimack and High streets, where they boarded special cars for Milligan's grove, Wilmington, the spot that will harbor the "little soldiers" until Saturday night.

Many of them carrying guns that were actually larger than themselves besides other equipment, the O.M.I. cadets attracted considerable attention as they paraded headed by the drum corps to the special cars. A squad of the cadets had already started over the road with the heavy equipment, but there were two good carloads of headquarters when the signal was given to start.

MAJOR WILLIAM F. CONROY

Less than an hour was occupied in traveling from this city to Milligan's grove and then work was started to establish the military camp. Each man was assigned to his particular duties and in a short time the grove began to take on a military aspect with 20 tents and other equipment practically set up.

Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., chaplain of the cadets, accompanied the boys to camp and will have general charge during their stay there with Major Conroy supervising the military drill, etc. Matt McCann, the athletic instructor, also reported to camp today.

Beginning with mess this evening, the regular program will be carried out as was printed in yesterday's Sun. The greater part of this evening will be spent in fixing up the tents and preparing for the four days' stay in camp. Taps will be sounded at 9 o'clock when all lights will be put out and every soldier ordered to bed.

REPORT IS RIDICULOUS

JAPANESE EMBASSY SO CHARACTERIZES JAPANESE JOURNAL CONCERNING PANAMA LAND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—At the Japanese embassy today it was said that published reports of alleged Japanese aggressions in the Isthmus of Panama for acquisition of coaling station which was considered part of propaganda to alarm the United States was so ridiculous as to make a statement of denial unnecessary.

FUNERALS

RING.—The funeral of Mildred Ruth Ring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ring, took place this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, 10 Billerica street, after the cause of death being diphtheria. The funeral was private. Burial was in the family lot at the Edson cemetery where prayer was read by Rev. E. J. Hancotte of the French Baptist church. Undertakers O'Connell & Mack in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICE

PAQUIN.—The funeral of Dovidia (Dina) Paquin will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the home of her parents, 12 Willow street. High mass will be sung at St. Jean Baptiste church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Undertaker Albert & Son in charge.

FRENCH-AMERICAN ORPHANAGE

The annual outing for the children of the French-American orphanage is being held at the Tewksbury novitate today and the affair, according to the little ones, is the best ever. The boys and girls numbering over 300 left by special cars at 8:30 o'clock this morning and on route they were regaled with patriotic and religious hymns. They were accompanied by the sisters in charge of the orphanage as well as by several clergymen.

Upon reaching the grounds the boys and girls were let loose and several games were soon in progress, among which was the traditional baseball game. Spectators of all kinds were carried out much to the delight of the children. At noon a bountiful dinner was served on the green and the afternoon was spent in a most delightful way. The affair was again under the auspices of the members of St. Joseph's sewing circle, and present among the clergymen were Rev. Joseph Bozue, O.M.I., chaplain of the circle, Rev. Antoine Amyot, O.M.I., Rev. C. A. Gagnette, O.M.I., Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I., and Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I. The return trip will be started at 6:30 o'clock.

ICE WAGON LOST WHEEL

A heavy ice wagon belonging to the Daniel Gage Co. became disabled in Merrimack street in an city hall, about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when one of the wheels fell off. As a result unobstructed street car traffic was held up while the ice was being transferred from the disabled wagon to another that was sent from the company's houses. The wagon was taken away to be repaired.

WONDERFUL WAR GAME

BATTLESHIPS OF THE BLUE IN- AND DESTROYING THE ENEMY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—An enemy of great strength conveying 30

arrived within 500 miles of the Atlantic coast at six o'clock this morning and the greatest war game ever undertaken by the navy department began.

Within an hour the 12 battleships of the "Blue" defending fleet were speeding to sea behind a far-flung line of destroyers and scouts, intent upon locating and destroying the enemy. "Red" fleet and Admiral Heintz the "Blue" fleet and Admiral Heintz, president of the navy college aboard the super-dreadnought Pennsylvania will umpire the game in which seventy fighting craft are engaged.

The reserve battleships forming the "Blue" fleet maintain are manned by naval midshipmen and civilian volunteers.

Admiral Mayo has until September 1 to evade the "Blue" fleet and effect a landing at any point between Cape Hatteras and Eastport, Maine.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—No immediate relief from the heat wave which overshadows the country east of the Mississippi is promised by the weather bureau.

Some material change may be expected tomorrow night or Thursday in eastern districts as a disturbance central this morning north of Lake Superior causing a decided fall in temperature in that region, is expected to advance eastward within the next 36 hours.

HEAT, OR SOMETHING

A number of the laborers employed at the Pawtucket bridge left their work this forenoon, claiming to be dissatisfied with the conditions. At the office of the company constructing the bridge this afternoon it was stated that the men expressed some dissatisfaction and were told that they could go home if they desired. "Some went and some returned to work," one of the officials said.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Annie Graham, aged 20 years, was overcome by the heat at the Chambers street playgrounds this afternoon and recovered in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where she received treatment.

NEWS TO GERMANY

Didn't Know That Oswego Had Been Attacked Until Note Was Received

BERLIN, Aug. 19, via London, Aug. 22 (Delayed).—Concerning the American report regarding the steamer Oswego, said to have been fired upon by a submarine, the statement was made today that German naval authorities have no information of any sort in this connection, the American note being the first intimation here of the matter. Efforts are being made by the authorities to clear up the case.

TODAY'S SESSION OPENED

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Views of some of the leading priests and laymen of the Catholic church upon the situation in Mexico, received further definition today in the conventions here of the American Federation of Catholic societies, the Catholic Young Men's National Union and the German Catholic Central Verein. The annual report of Michael J. Slattery as president of the Young Men's organization which is on the program for today is expected to deal with the condition of the Catholic church in Mexico. Mr. Slattery spent fifteen years as a mining engineer in that country.

Business sessions of the federation and its allied organizations were held this morning, when some of the subjects discussed in the reports of president Joseph Frey of the Verein, and of Anthony Matre, secretary of the federation, were taken up. Mr. Matre in his report yesterday criticized some of the features of modern life which he regarded as evil, including phases of the moving picture business, easy divorces, improper plays and attacks on Christianity. A woman's session of the federation was a feature of the morning program.

Tonight there will be a mass meeting under the auspices of the Central Verein, and the Young Men's union will attend a banquet and listen to addresses by officials of the union and others.

Women's Session

At the women's session Bishop P. J. Muldoon of Rockford, Illinois, urged about 200 delegates to join every state, county and city civic movement in their communities.

"Don't stand back and say 'We Catholics women are not wanted and won't get a fair chance,'" he said. "My own experience is that people of other beliefs not only are fair to us Catholics; but are most anxious for us to join with them in work for the general good."

Miss Helen Haney of Randolph, Mass., who presided at the women's meeting made a similar plea. "Are we Catholic women going to sit quietly by," she said, "and allow the Young Women's Christian Association to forever usurp the Christian name in association welfare? If Catholic womanhood is ever to interpret itself to the American mind and make manifest its claim to superiority, let us open our clubhouses and our league houses to our young girls."

DANCE ON THE GREEN

ARRANGEMENTS FOR DANCE ON SOUTH COMMON COMPLETED AT COMMITTEE MEETING

Arrangements for the municipal dance to be held on the South common on the evening of Aug. 31 were completed at a meeting of the committee held at city hall last evening with Chairman Harvey B. Greene in the chair. It was decided to eliminate the national dance features as well as the Maypole dance on account of the brief time in which to prepare the events and the cost involved.

The program agreed to last evening was as follows: Band concert from 7:45 o'clock to 8 and then grand march led by Mayor and Mrs. O'Donnell. Following the grand march general dancing will be started and continued until 10:30 o'clock.

The dancing place will be wired off and 20 police officers as well as Boy Scouts will be on hand to see that everything moves along smoothly. The dancing numbers planned and their orders are as follows: One step, waltz, one step, fox trot, one step, waltz, fox trot, one step, fox trot, one step and waltz. Everybody is invited to participate in the general dancing and all will be free. Those present at last night's meeting were as follows: Chairman Harvey B. Greene, Mrs. Julian B. Keyes, Miss Josephine Ockington, Miss L. Blanche Perrin, John H. Murphy and Supt. Kernan.

PLANT JUICE WAS GREAT SENSATION

Has Been Introduced In Many Large Cities and Public Flocks to Test Its Merits

Unusual interest has been created in this city within the last few days since the announcement that Plant Juice, the great heral stomach remedy is to be introduced at Dows, the Druggist, in Merrimack Square, to prove its wonderful curative powers in stomach trouble and its complications. At these novel tests, those who wish are given free samples of this wonderful preparation, which is manufactured from the roots, herbs, barks and berries of medicinal plants. In the large Western cities where Plant Juice has been introduced, people suffering from stomach, liver and kidney trouble have made astonishing statements at the quick relief given them.

The world is full of half-sick, ailing people, who through their unnatural ways of living, forced upon them by overwork, eating their meals hurriedly, over-eating and being on nerve tension, have become irritable, ambitionless and despondent; they lack vitality, are susceptible to colds, their tongues are coated and complexion sallow.

Great interest has arisen in the reports from various cities regarding the great benefit received by people in cases of deranged systems and its complications of indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, heartburn, sour stomach, and sleeplessness. Health is indeed life's excuse—ill health offers nothing but discouragement and dread.

The uses of Plant Juice are many, or it has a gentle laxative effect that gradually makes cathartics unnecessary. It tones up the whole system in such a manner as to make perfect digestion of food; it increases the appetite, prevents headache, dizziness, and that tired, run-down feeling due to a deranged stomach. It is certain, harmless in action, and is the ideal remedy for the old and young, and is sold on a money-back basis.

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, the Druggist, Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Hibernianism in Lowell dates back far beyond a quarter of a century, and the organization was particularly active 25 years ago. New divisions had been started within a short time and so prosperous were all the local divisions that the idea of a central body for Lowell, was promulgated and carried through to success. There was some discussion of the matter of erecting a Hibernian building, but instead of so doing the divisions selected the Howe building where they now associate for a central meeting place.

The Sun of quarter of a century ago said:

"A mass meeting of Hibernians was held Sunday in Hibernian hall, Market street, to consider the question of a central executive council for the five local divisions, a project that has been talked about for some time by several of the leading members. A committee of five was appointed from each of the divisions to form a central executive council and it was also voted to have a committee of five appointed to attend the meeting of the divisions and bring the action of the meeting more prominently before them. Those appointed were John A. O'Hearn, for division 1; Joseph Logue, division 2; John J. Quinn, division 3; Thomas P. Roach, division 28; and John O'Brien, division 11.

"The directors of the insurance organization connected with the A.O.H. have called a meeting to be held in Worcester on September 28. The object of the convention is to popularize the insurance feature among the lodges throughout the state. One way from each division is requested to attend the convention in order to become thoroughly familiar with the benefit organization. Mr. Charles H. O'Donnell is the treasurer of the fund. Although established but a few months 600 members have entered the insurance organization, but an effort is being made to increase the membership ten-fold. There are 10,000 members of the order in the state and if a majority of them would take up this feature, the insurance provided would be the cheapest and most reliable to be found anywhere."

Scannon and Mack

Quarter of a century ago, at this time of year William J. Scannon, America's most popular lyric tenor of days gone by and Andrew Mack then a promising young singer and actor appeared in Lowell within a few days of each other. The old Sun referred to them as follows:

"Miss Fannie Rice got a royal welcome at the Opera House last night, from a crowded house and was made the recipient of a pile of bouquets and baskets of flowers. 'A Jolly Surprise' which was given last night, will be repeated this afternoon and evening. The singing of Miss Fannie Rice, excellent and Miss Miller and Mr. Mack were decided hits in several selections. The whole company is good."

A week later the old Sun said: "On Wednesday William J. Scannon in 'Mavourneen' filled the house to overflowing. 'Mavourneen' is a typical Irish play and was finely presented. A good many patrons of the Opera House would like to see 'Mavourneen' and hear Scannon again."

Jolly Fannie Rice was a Lowell girl and in her young days resided in the vicinity of Hosford square, and Andrew Mack, whose name originally was McAlloon, while a North End, Boston boy, had relatives in this city, and frequently visited here in days gone by. When Scannon was at the height of his fame Mack had not heard of a star but made a big hit and attracted the attention of the managers as leading man for Fannie Rice. In 'A Jolly Surprise', Chauncy Olcott had not reached the height of stardom in those days and Scannon and Joe Murphy, 'Kerry Gov', another Lowell actor, had the whole field of Irish drama and Irish ballad singing to themselves. Fannie Rice had previously been a star in one of Rudolph Aronson's celebrated New York Casino comic opera companies and was associated with such stars as Lillian Russell, Pauline Hall and Marie Jansen, all of whom became headliners in their own right subsequently. Playing with them were such noted comedians as Francis Wilson, James T. Power, and Jeff De Angelis, and one by one they all quit the Casino company and headed companies of their own with success. While with Fannie Rice Andrew Mack played the part of a down-and-out Italian singer and improviser, who seeks a job as manager for Fannie who had histrionic aspirations. His rendition of the good old song 'Goodbye Sweetheart, Goodbye' in broken English, was a big hit as was his exchange of repartee also in broken English, with the irrepressible

RAILROAD STRIKE MENACE

It looks now as if President Wilson had practically given up hope of reaching a peaceful settlement of the conflict between the railroads of the country and the four great brotherhoods. He has come to the conclusion that compulsory arbitration is the only remedy in such cases as the present and urges that congress take early action to make a recurrence of the present trouble impossible in the future.

For years, The Sun has pleaded for compulsory arbitration of all disputes involving the tieup of public service utilities. For constitutional reasons no such law was enacted. It was considered un-American to compel a man to work against his will and so the trainmen were willing and even glad to approve the Newlands act passed in 1913 for providing a means of settling by arbitration such difficulties as the present.

But of what use is the Newlands act when the brotherhoods that favored it then refuse to submit to it now? They favor President Wilson's plan for the eight hour day; but this the railroad heads say is impracticable and to them wholly unacceptable. Thus the whole question reverts back to the deadlock which brought the parties in conflict to Washington in the first place. Still the president will make another attempt to avert a strike that while it lasted would be as disastrous to this nation as a great war. It would mean in reality an industrial war that would paralyze business and commerce and bring suffering and starvation to many thousands of people throughout this country.

In the face of such a situation it is no wonder that President Wilson has declared openly in favor of a compulsory arbitration law that would make strikes and lockouts illegal in all public service utilities, and submit all disputes between employer and employee to a tribunal created for that purpose. Until such a law is enacted the railroad brotherhoods and worse still, the I. W. W. It is only a few weeks since Joseph E. Rorabacher declared that he and his adherents would soon be able to tie up the entire business of the country by a general strike and thus compel the concession of the demands made by these social revolutionists wholly regardless of their justice or their tyranny.

In view of such a menace to the peace and welfare of this nation, it is imperative that congress take up this matter at once and enact a law prohibiting strikes on railroads and other public utilities that would injure the general public. The establishment of a proper court of arbitration will be a necessary adjunct of such a law. All this can be done under the public welfare provision of the constitution and it should be done without delay.

The risk of such a national calamity as a nationwide railroad strike is to be dreaded fully as much, if not more, than a war with Mexico, or even a greater power. The rights of labor and capital are involved, but the rights of the general public are also involved and should stand paramount in all such controversies, for the reason that the rights, the interests and the safety of all the people are superior to those of any part of the people and should not be abrogated, sacrificed or ignored because the railroads cannot agree with their employees on the question of wages. In future, such matters should be submitted to a court of justice for adjudication in a manner that will be fair to all parties. That is the aim of compulsory arbitration. Let us have it at the earliest possible moment. The Australian plan for such arbitration has worked well and given general satisfaction. It seems to offer the greatest possibilities of industrial peace, and as such, may well be adopted by this country.

But the demand of the hour is for a means of settling the present trouble. That can be done only by mutual concession, and it appears that both parties to the conflict are about equally set against yielding anything; so that until they change their attitude no settlement is possible. The application of the eight hour day with time and a half for overtime is the great stumbling block. The roads say the increase under time is the great stumbling block. The roads say the increase under time is the great stumbling block. The roads say the increase under time is the great stumbling block.

There is one thing upon which the public can rely without fail and that is that whatever concessions the railroads may make, will be charged up with added interest to the patrons of the roads. In other words, whether the brotherhoods extort ten or fifty million dollars from the railroads, the public—the consumer in the final analysis, will have to pay the full amount and perhaps a great deal more.

SAVING THE BABIES

We have only a few cases of infantile paralysis in Lowell, but at present the hot weather is a serious menace to all babies that are not properly protected against its severity. This protection implies coolness, cleanliness, fresh air, proper feeding and proper rest. These essentials may be difficult if not impossible to attain where there is no means of keeping milk on ice and where there is no body who understands how susceptible the baby is to various ills as a result of the heat.

Cholera infantum is the great danger to be guarded against, but while it may come on suddenly it is usually the result of weeks of suffering from the effects of hot weather, soured milk, intense heat both by day and by night, and impure air. It should be remembered that one feed of changed milk may bring on illness that will eventually kill the child. It is generally a number of minor discomforts that upset a child, bringing on stomach or other troubles that finally end in cholera infantum.

Parents who have not the proper facilities for preparing food for babies should call at the milk station on Dutton street, where the matron or the nurses will instruct them in the preparation of modified milk and in other ways of protecting the children against hot weather complaints.

THE WAR SITUATION

It is hardly credible that Germany as a belligerent is voluntarily yielding territory to the allies that she fought with all her might to conquer. The fact seems to be that the allies, having reached a state of preparedness somewhat approaching that of Germany at the beginning of the war, are forcing things by formidable offensives on all sides. France and Britain on the west, Russia overwhelmingly on the east, Italy on the south and another drive from Salonika. No longer can Germany call troops from one front to fight on another. The allies are breaking through on all sides but only after hard fighting. This position cannot last long and the greatest invasions are likely to be made by Russia now entering Hungary and pressing the enemy hard at other points. Still Germany is fighting desperately on all sides with no

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on doing this by eating or drinking too much of the wrong kind of food. They eat "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, they eat the wrong kind of food. They eat too much of the wrong kind of food. They eat too much of the wrong kind of food. They eat too much of the wrong kind of food.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

So far as the experiments with the use of blood serum from parents as an antidote for infantile paralysis in their children has gone, the death rate among the New York patients seems to have undergone a notable reduction. But the results are not sufficient to warrant any reliable conclusion. Nevertheless, the use of the serum will be continued and it may open the way to an effective cure.

The Germans apparently fooled the British naval commanders in making a feint of coming out for a naval battle and drawing the British cruisers within reach of the submarines lying in wait for them.

SEEN AND HEARD

It would be a great deal easier to love our fellow men if more of them were lovable.

Perhaps you have noticed that the same people who fuss in the summer about the heat fuss in the winter about the cold.

The man who mails a letter once a month is one of the loudest advocates of one-cent postage.

People who think there aren't so many flies as usual this summer may change their minds when they get settled down in a country boarding house.

There are a great many cold, unfeeling men in the world, but you need not relish it at first sight when the mercury is up to 50 degrees.

It must be very unflattering to a woman suing for divorce not to have the case contested.

The Vanished Smile

"How long has this restaurant been open?" asked the would-be diner. "Two years," said the proprietor. "How unfortunate," said the diner. "I'm sorry I didn't know that before. I should probably have been better off if I had come here then."

"Yes," smiled the proprietor, looking very much pleased. "How is that?" "Well, I should very likely have been served by this time if I had," said the guest. Then the proprietor's smile vanished.—Stray Stories.

Drying the Grave

One day a philosopher was meditating in the fields outside the city of Tientsin, China. He noticed a woman weeping bitterly beside a fresh grave, which was being fanned vigorously, and said: "O sorrowful one, what is your trouble?"

Your honorable excellency, my husband is dead. "No doubt he was a good husband, and you are to be pitied, but why are you fanning his grave?" "Well," replied the woman, "my husband made me promise not to marry again until his grave was dry."

Way to a Man's Heart

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affection went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for love powder. The mysterious woman told her: "Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat,

Indoor Life Makes Fat

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precautions to guard against over-stimulation, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce the muscular energy and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying too much weight in their own minds that they are too stout to be advised to go to A. W. Dows & Co., or any good druggist, and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less lumpy appears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

graduation bill will not come up for a vote at the present session, and that the odds and ends of legislation could be cleared up in a few days, after the revenue bill is passed. The president has arranged for his formal notification to be made at Shadowlawn on September and he will go to Kentucky Sept. 4 to attend the Lincoln birthplace purchase celebration, and is extremely anxious the session shall have come to an end before that time. He must be in Washington to adjourn congress and any delay in fixing the date would be annoying to him.

The president's attitude in forcing a compromise that shall prevent a strike of such magnitude as to affect the industries of the entire country, is getting wholesale praise at the hands of men of both parties. The city is full of railroad men, both employers and employees, conferences at the White House and headquarters of the men are frequent. There is scarcely another topic heard on the streets, and the president's attitude is upheld by the mass of the people.

NEW YORK'S HEAT

Metropolis Threatened With a Heat Record, the Thermometer Registering 83 at 9:30

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Heat records were threatened early today, the mercury in the weather bureau's thermometer registering 83 at 9:30. Prostrations were numerous but no deaths were reported during the morning. Low humidity and a light breeze modified discomfort. The local forecast promised no immediate relief.

PEPPERELL COUPLE HAD TRIAL UNION OF 27 YEARS' DURATION

PEPPERELL, Aug. 22.—Fred and Annie Miller, who have been living together in the trial-marriage state for 27 years, were legally married last evening in the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. W. H. Beers, while practically half the population of the town stood on the veranda, lawn and street and gave the bride and groom a great reception, with ringing of bells, singing and cheering.

The couple was married in the front parlor. They arrived at the parsonage from their humble abode in the outskirts of the town in a limousine furnished for the occasion by Frank Sullivan. The bridegroom had changed his simple farmer's costume of overalls for a rig that showed he was at heart a Beau Brummel. He wore a brown fedora hat, white tennis shoes, a gray tweed Savoy coat and trousers pressed behind, a white vest and blue bohemian tie. The bride's costume was simpler, as befitting her 74 years. (She gave her age as 74 in the marriage license and Fred gave his as 56.) She wore a plum-colored loose waist, cut slightly V-shaped in the back, with a corsage bouquet of wild daffodils, and a simple broadcloth skirt, with wedding slippers to match. Her hair was slightly waved.

Admires Fred's Nerve

Miss Doris Smith, daughter of the chief of police, stood up with the bride, and O. W. Brown of New York, who is touring this part of the country, attended the bridegroom. He admires Fred's nerve. Fred held on to the fedora all through the ceremony. The ring was a simple, plain gold band, as the bride was averse to expensive jewelry. She thinks that most young women deck themselves up outrageously to get married.

The Methodist marriage ceremony is rather long and tedious and has to be repeated. Some of the words were too long for Fred, but they got by all right. When the ceremony was ended, word was passed to the crowd outside and a great cheer went up. At the same time the church bell was rung and the whole town was made aware of the fact that Fred and Annie Miller, after 27 years of trial marriage, were married for good and all. Chief Smith, who was in the parlor, rushed from the house and stopped the ringing of the church bell, but the rest of the popular demonstration was permitted to go on, for the chief realized that such an event was not liable to happen soon in the town again. He it was who brought about the marriage. He thought Fred and Annie had been living long enough in the trial-marriage state, and that they ought to know their own minds by this time.

Another reason was that Annie was being ardently pursued by another lover, 75 years old, Louis Hickory, who eloped with her about three weeks ago and got as far as Concord, N. H., where the runaways were caught and brought back to Pepperell by Chief Smith. After her return she decided to go back to the old love, Fred Miller, and make sure she wouldn't run away again. Fred decided to put his trial wife in good old-fashioned matrimonial bondage.

Crowd Expected Hickory

Louis is living at Ayer now. Some people expected him over to the wedding, but it is just as well for his own personal comfort that he didn't show up. For what Fred Miller said he intended to do with him isn't fit for publication. This was one reason for the big crowd at the parsonage. They expected Louis to be there.

After the ceremony, and after the happy couple had been kissed and congratulated, Fred and his wife stepped out and got another cheer. Then they entered the limousine with the attendants and Chief Smith and were driven to the Miller home. Over the front door they found a sign that had been nailed up in their absence, which read:

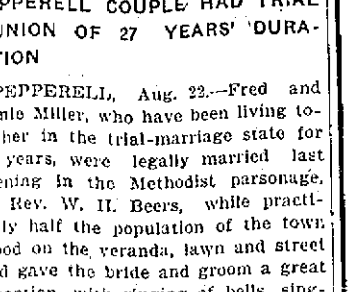

We are married. Fred Miller and wife.

But something else had been happening during their brief absence, for the little house was all lit up and the newly weds were greeted by Mrs. Clara M. Smith, wife of the chief of police; Mrs. Leroy Shattuck and Mrs. Alta Shattuck, who had prepared a wedding cake on a table which was decorated with vases, gold and silver, and other world flowers. After the supper the bride showed them a crazy quilt she had made herself—a work of love on which she had labored for months in anticipation of this event. She had made it long before Louis Hickory came into her life.

Fred and Annie are now one. She fed the chickens before she dressed for the marriage ceremony and Fred finished a little job in the garden. Hence the picture.

President's Attitude in Strike Question Makes Hit in Washington

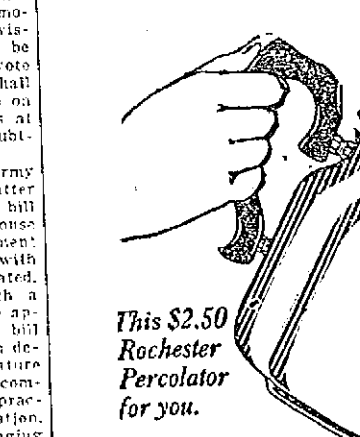

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Each day brings a new prediction as to the date of adjournment. That it will be near September first is, however, conceded by nearly everyone except men of radical views who feel that the disturbed measures may yet be brought up for a vote at this session.

The immigration bill is likely to be held over in spite of all talk to the contrary. Senator Ellison Smith of South Carolina, who is chairman of the committee, and who threatened to have the matter made at this session obligation, is now on his plantation looking after the crops and rumors say it is not entirely by accident that he is absenting himself at this moment, but a matter of legislative wisdom.

The immigration bill may be brought up in the senate and a vote taken as to whether or not it shall lay over till December, but a vote on the passage of the measure seems at this moment to be extremely doubtful.

The president's veto of the army bill is thought to delay the matter only a few days, and that the bill will go back to the senate and house with the objectionable retirement cause eliminated, and possibly with the entire articles of war eliminated, as the point is raised that such a change is not a proper part of the appropriation bill. In that case the bill would probably pass without much debate and get the president's signature at once. Preparations have been completed to kill the Owens corrupt practice bill for immediate consideration, should Mr. Owens insist on bringing it before the senate. That must go over to December so practically every one but Mr. Owens consents. This puts the contested bill down, showing two weeks for that measure, and a week for other unfinished business, the proposed date of Sept. 1 does not look utterly impossible after all.

One thing, however, may change the entire program. If the president should attempt to negotiate to take a hand in the threatened strike by forcing an eight-hour law, as has been rumored he might do the action of congress and the date of adjournment would be in great doubt. Senators and representatives are a bit about talking of the possibility, but make it known they would be strongly against having congress take a hand in the trouble at this moment. It is a safe guess that the tariff, the Danish treaty, the corrupt practice act, and the immi-

New London Made Only One Hit
But Scored Four Runs on Eight
Bases on Balls

Special to The Sun

NEW LONDON, Aug. 22.—Zieser's wildness was responsible for all New London's runs in the game with Lowell played at Plant field yesterday afternoon and the Planters came through on the long end of a 4-3 score. Lowell collected six hits off Paddy Martin's delivery for a total of two runs while the Planters only connected safely once, this being a single in the first inning by Marhefka. Zieser gave way to Smith in the last of the seventh after the first batter had walked four men and hit one.

Lowell started off with a rush and in the first inning three hits gave them a total of two runs. Dee made his first appearance in New London by cracking out a single to left in his first trip to the plate. After Kane had fanned, Stimpson came across with a single and was immediately followed by Parker who dropped one in the same place. Dee scored. Helfrich went out, Dowd to Rodriguez, and the side retired.

Without the assistance of a hit, base or sacrifice, the Planters tallied in the second, while Zieser was throwing Whitehouse out at first. O'Dell walked and Fish was bored in the back with the pill. While working on Martin, Zieser uncorked a wild pitch and the Cuban scored. Martin hit to Dee, who forced O'Dell and Becker fanned.

The big slaughter came in the fifth when the Planters failed to connect with the ball safely but scored three runs. Martin went out and Becker walked and later stole second. Dowd walked and Weiser was safe when Helfrich threw Dowd out at second. Becker going to third. Weiser stole second and Marhefka walked filling the sacks. Rodriguez drew a free kick to first and Becker was forced in Zieser bled Whitehouse in the groin with the ball forcing in Weiser and laying Whitehouse flat on his back. After working over the center fielder and getting him on his feet, Umpire Keedy announced that Smith would do the hurling for Lowell. He started by walking O'Dell forcing in Marhefka. Fish obligingly went out Helfrich to first and the massacre ended.

Lowell tried hard to tie the game up in the eighth but Martin tightened after the one tally had been punched over by visitors. Smith, first man up, tapped one at Dowd and beat it out, going to second when Dee was hit. Kane advanced both runners with a pretty sacrifice and Smith scored while Dowd was throwing Stimpson out at first. With two down Paddy took Parker under his sheltering wing and sent him to the bench via the whiff route.

SHRINERS HONOR SPOKE

3000 OF THEM ATTENDED GAME
IN BOSTON—KNIGHTS OF CO-
LUMBUS ALSO PRESENT

About 3000 Shriners attended the Boston-Cleveland game at Fenway park, Boston, yesterday, to honor Tristram Speaker and Lawrence Gardner, both professional ball players high in the mystery of the order. There were no presentations or anything to mark the progress of the game as the exercises came afterward at Shirley field. However, the Shriners were present in all their splendor and cheered Speaker, Gardner and the Boston team. The Shriners' Pipe, Drum and Tugalo corps of 60 pieces furnished music. After the game Speaker was presented a life membership to Boston temple.

Not to be outdone, about 300 members of Boston council, Knights of Columbus, attended the game as guests of President Lannan. Secretary Edward Riley, who is a member of Boston council, was presented a gold and enamel Knights of Columbus charm by his brother members.

DEADLOCK IN BIG DEAL

CUBS WANT STALLINGS TO GIVE
MARANVILLE IN EXCHANGE
FOR HEINE ZIMMERMAN

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Negotiations for a trade between the Braves and Cubs, involving the transfer of Heine Zimmerman to Boston, reached a deadlock after Manager Stallings had conferred for hours with Pres. Wegman and Manager Tinker.

The Boston offer for Zimmerman, although it was not given out, fell short of what the Cub management considered an equivalent for the third baseman, and a counter offer by Manager Tinker to trade Zimmerman for Maranville did not prove acceptable to Stallings.

The Cub's outfield problem was settled temporarily yesterday by the signing of Artie Hefner, ex-Cub and recently with the Yankees, to fill until the recovery of Joe Kelly, who is suffering from a twisted ankle.

The Boston club is still in the competition for Zimmerman. Manager Robinson and Pres. Ebbels of the Brooklyn Nationals renewed negotiations yesterday, but the Brooklyn offer, it was said, was no more acceptable to the Cub management than Boston's.

RECALLS SHANNON TWINS

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The Shannon twins, Maurice and Joe, who were members of the New Haven Eastern league club for a while, are to get another chance with the Boston Braves, Manager George T. Stallings of the Braves wired to President James T. Collins of the New Haven club asking him to exhibit games. He stated the loss of Evers and Fitzpatrick made it necessary to use two new players, and he wanted to again try out the Shannons. President Collins wired his permission for Boston to use the Shannons. The New Haven club recently jumped the Boston club because they were jeered for being instrumental in the loss of a game.

HUB COAST GUARDS

MADE RECORD FOR MARKSMAN-
SHIP WITH BIG GUNS IN BOS-
TON HARBOR

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—National guardmen of the Sixth company, coast artillery corps of this state, claimed a record for marksmanship with big guns today when the announcement today of the official report of service shooting from the harbor forts. The company was credited with two clean hits at six and one half miles out of 3 shots which were fired in 2 minutes 43 seconds. The first shot came within ten yards of being a hit. Colonel E. Dwight Fullerton, commander of the corps, said he had never heard of a better performance.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Lawrence Mfg. Co. team clearly demonstrated that it is a strong contender for the championship honors of the city today by defeating the strong St. John's team of North Chelmsford, Ricc, the hosiery pitcher, had an easy time with the boys from the suburban town and Sturtevant was hit hard and timely. The score was 7 to 0. Manager Riley of the hosiery boys, is waiting for an answer from Manager Lyons of the Pitts' South End for a three game series at Spalding park.

All entries should be sent to the left at the Trades and Labor council office, 32 Middle street, and addressed to the committee on sports.

EXPERTS SAY SCHALK IS MOST
VALUABLE PLAYER IN AM. LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—"Who is the most valuable player to his club in the American league?" asks a local baseball expert. Most fans in Detroit would pick Ty Cobb. Many in New York would contend Tris Speaker deserves the prestige. Many may be found in every city in the circuit who would single out Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox as the player deserving this honor. For all around play Schalk undoubtedly has no equal among the backstops of the American and probably the National league. It is one characteristic that marks him as a leader in his department. Whistling, dancing, aggressive, ever alert, Schalk has no peer in the American league. He does everything just a little better than his rivals. President Comiskey couldn't afford to trade Schalk for Speaker or Cobb, and this leads to an astounding fact in this young athlete's remarkable baseball career. The Sox owner could have signed Schalk at the paltry waiver price of $1500 in 1911. He tapped his bank account to the amount of $12,500 for Schalk's release in 1912.

BEST TEAM IN LEAGUE

Portland's Averages Show Why
Team is Leading in Eastern
League Race

Three clubs gained in hitting and all in fielding in the Eastern league during the week. Portland, Lawrence and Hartford each improved their former batting average, while Springfield and New Haven gained a point each in fielding since the former figures were compiled last week. The pace-setting Duffs remain the best all-around sluggers in the circuit, while New London retains its place at the top of the circuit in fielding. Portland is now hitting for a team average of .262, while the Millionaires are sporting a fielding average of .963.

Worcester, Springfield and Bridgeport were the only teams that lost ground in hitting. The Boosters and Munition City outfit each had a few points clipped off their fielding figures, and were the only clubs that slumped in defensive playing. Lowell, Lynn and New London played consistent ball. Neither club gained nor lost any ground in hitting or fielding, retaining the same figures as last week.

One glance at the table of figures explains fully why Portland is leading the pennant race. The Duffs, in addition to leading in hitting, are second in fielding, have made the greatest number of triples, 25, and are second in stolen bases. Springfield has made the largest number of doubles, 132. Worcester, with 114, is second. The Green Sox have also knocked out the most circuit raps, 22, Lynn, with a total of 171, is showing the way in the sacrifice hitting honors, having 131 intentionals outs and 31 sacrifice flies to its credit. The table below includes Thursday's games:

MEMBERS' DAY AT BUNTING

The Bunting club will observe members' day next Saturday and although this event in previous years has been one which never failed to attract a large attendance, monster arrangements have been made for this year's affair and it bids fair to eclipse former events.

The events are open to all who attend, with the exception of those marked for members only. Valuable prizes are offered to the winners. The two-mile bicycle race will bring out quite a few riders, and the three-mile steeplechase, which includes six flights of hurdles, 30 inches high, will be two interesting races. Other events include members' race (once around the track), 300-yards race for boys, 100-yards race for girls, 50-yards race for married women, 50-yards race for women over 18 years, 75-yards skipping rope race for girls, 100-yards race for members over 50 years, 100-yards race for members only, and bowling at the wicket.

GRAND CIRCUIT

A New Two-Year-Old
Wins the Futurity at
Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—Starting in her first race at the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday, The Real Lady, owned by A. H. Couden of New York, and bred by the late L. V. Harkness, won the American Horse Breeders' Futurity for two-year-olds in 2:09 3/4 and 2:10. It was the fastest race ever trotted by a two-year-old the first time out, and the fastest save one ever credited to a filly of this age.

With Mary Coburn, Harvest Gale and Will Bing among the starters, there was heavy betting on the race. Auction pools sold at $200 for The Real Lady, $120 for Mary Coburn, $5 for Will Bing and $20 for the field. Thomas W. Murphy of Poughkeepsie, who drove the winner, did not have to disprove the limit of her speed, though she stopped the last half of her first mile in 1:02 1/4 and the last quarter of the second heat in 30 3/4, a 2:01 gait.

Jay Ell Mack, a fleet young pacer owned by Robert McAffee of Pittsburgh, won the 2:03 race in impressive style driven by Murphy. Miss Harris M. won the 2:07 race, but had to go to the limit to beat Roan Hal and Billy Dale.

Directum I, owned by M. E. Sturges of New York and driven by Murphy, which started to beat the record at a mile and a furlong, paced the distance in 2:16 3/4. The previous record was 2:20.

FATIMA

A Sensible
CigaretteComfortable—
that's why they're sensible.

As you've probably noticed, it is the keen, active-minded type of man who is particular to choose Fatimas. If you were smoking Fatimas, you would know why. You would find that Fatimas, more than any other cigarette, are comfortable while you smoke and after you smoke them.

Their delicately balanced Turkish blend makes them a sensible cigarette to smoke. Why not prove this for yourself?

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Hartford at Lowell tomorrow.

Winning baseball games on one hit is almost a record.

Matty Zieser continues to have that one bad inning when he can't control the old base on balls.

The lone hit made off Zieser came in the first inning. Both Matty and Smith held the Planters hitless thereafter.

Stimpson found Paddy Martin for a brace of singles in four times up.

Rodriguez, the Cuban first sacker, secured a free pass to first on every time at bat.

Zieser was benched in favor of Smith after he had knocked out a batter with a rib breaker.

McQuillan, the young Worcester pitcher, had the better of Tuckey yesterday and today, 6 to 2. Portland's lead is now down to two full games.

Verne, the left handed first baseman who was released by Bridgeport because he could not hit, is leading the Worcester sluggers according to the latest averages.

Gaston, Portland's star catcher, is still out of the game and Chet Sweatt is doing all the backstopping with Tamim filling in at second.

Walt Hoyt, the Lynn 16-year-old pitcher, is now doing good work for Bridgeport. He allowed Bridgeport but five hits yesterday.

Pitcher Frank Gilmore of Bridgeport, who was formerly with Lawrence, has been released by the latter. Gilmore is in the effort to collect back salary. He is now with the Worcester team. Daniel O'Neill of the Eastern League has been asked to send a report to Secretary Farrell. Gilmore is the third to come into the limelight collecting from the Lawrence team, the others being Jesse Burkett and Alex Pearson.

A report from New Haven says that

Bud Weiser, the hard hitting left fielder of the New London team, and jumped the club but Bud is still in his old position. Manager McCann, who is trying out several youngsters for next year, got Weiser a Springfield semi-professional contract and Bud took a day off.

Dan O'Neill of the Eastern League recently took up the matter of suspending the schedule on Labor Day with Secretary Farrell of the National who ruled that the league must finish out the season or the players will be free agents. His ruling follows:

"All players must be paid in full to date of originally adopted schedule in order to be subject to reservation. The board on one occasion permitted a league to pay the salaries of the players up to date it closed the season, declaring players who were paid in full to date free agents, and permitted league to pay a number of players full salary to the close of the originally adopted schedule and reserve them. In your case, however, objection might be raised under the rule which provides that a territory must be occupied and operated in order to be held."

The Lowell team will return tomorrow for a series of games with the road trip with Hartford as the visiting guest. The cellar position in the league will be at stake unless Hartford can win a series of games.

Manager McDonald, a veteran catcher who is very popular in the Connecticut cities, will lead the Hartford team on a series of games with Portland. McDonald is the fourth general to appear here in charge of the Senators this season. His predecessors being Heine Wagner, George Spares and Jesse Burkett. But one game will be played.

Lowell will have its first and only open date Aug. 31 when New London will also take a day off. Other open dates in the Eastern League are as follows: Wednesday, Sept. 6, Lawrence and Springfield; Tuesday, Sept. 12, Hartford and Lawrence; Thursday, Sept. 14, Springfield and Portland; Friday, Sept. 15, Springfield and Worcester; and Springfield and Worcester.

A report from New Haven says that

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The photo play entitled, "The Unborn," presented at the Merrimack Square theatre last evening under pretence of conveying a great moral lesson is simply an ingenious method of promoting the propaganda of birth control under various disguises. It is true that the sufferings of betrayed girls is shown in a manner that must arouse in the minds of the spectators the deepest sympathy for them and the most supreme contempt for the scoundrel who betrays them, but at the same time the office of the doctor who is engaged in malpractice is held in prominence as affording an easy escape from the disgrace that such a misfortune brings upon the victim.

There are quotations from scripture such as: "Whosoever a man soweth that shall he also reap" and there are admonitions to virtue and condemnations to vice; but side by side with these is given a quotation from Emma Goldman about the injustice of confining the knowledge of birth control to the upper or educated classes who are unwilling to assume the responsibility of conveying it to the children. This photo play a scamp cultivates the acquaintance of an innocent country girl until he wins her heart and betrays her. After a year or two, while the husband was longing for children, she told him that if he wanted children, he would have to adopt them. She is shown as a visitor at the shady doctor's office. By this and other cases of unfortunate girls seeking relief from impending disgrace, the conclusion is enforced that all woman or girl has to do to avoid motherhood is to visit the office of such a doctor. That apparently is the main object of the show, that is the great "moral lesson" conveyed, the "lesson" which, according to the advertisements, is the strongest kind of sermon.

Yet we are told the play is only showing up what is happening around us. Well, perhaps so but it is not time that all the influences working for righteousness are alert to prevent such crimes? The effect of the play would be to make it appear that such crimes are more common than they really are, and that being practiced by respectable people, no disgrace is attached to them. It is true the criminal doctor is punished in the end but that does not mar the effect of the lesson conveyed.

The attendance yesterday and last evening crowded the gallery but the auditorium down stairs had many vacant seats.

OWL THEATRE

Whether it was because of the unusual publicity given the production or the salacious nature of the production, a crowd of people that extended from the inner door of the Owl theatre out to the curbing sweltered in the heat last evening awaiting an opportunity to get inside the theatre to witness the sensational motion picture "Damaged Goods," concerning which so much has been written.

The play itself is a story drawn from the life of a woman who, after being married three years ago, when the production was being discussed pro and con by press and public, then along came Upton Sinclair's story drawn from the play which was as slushy as regards words as Sinclair could make it. And now comes the film production which comes its own way along with the play, and but comparatively little is thrown on the screen, the pictures speaking for themselves. The theme is too well known to need any explanation at this time. It deals with a subject the existence of which the world would like to forget, but unfortunately which exists nevertheless. The plot or story of the production which while itself a fiction, is built upon facts known to medical science. As a film production it may be said to be a masterpiece, for the greatest attention has been given to elaborateness of detail, and deadness no money was spared in producing it.

While the show is of the sensational character, its effect is to instill a horror of vice and, therefore, to put men and women on their guard of it rather than to sow the seeds of vice or to inculcate race hatred. The nature of the picture which meets with approval from all critics is the manner in which it handles and "shows up" the quick doctors who make easy money on the gullible sick.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The last chances to see Douglas Fairbanks in pictures, at the B. F. Keith theatre, this season, come today and tomorrow. In a brown and white production called "Reggie Mixes In." It is a high class comedy, with a neat touch of sentiment, and with some excellent acting. The picture is a comedy, and it holds many points of interest, the main one being the presence of the remarkable Fairbanks, who has got into a bad fix, and is in a predicament. Fairbanks is in his own mind in this picture, and it is suspected that much of the comedy is played by him. In fact, it does demonstrate his wonderful athletic ability, and in the closing scenes he engages in a game of hide-and-seek, which literally makes the story shows the ups and downs of life.

"Reggie Van Deuzen," who lives with an aunt and who is the primary cause of the comedy, is a rough routine of life, by chance hits himself to Gallagher's dance hall, just to see what is going on there. His father, a doctor, is a quack, and he is a resort for the questionable characters of the town, but, dancing in the place, is a mere slip of a girl, who, somehow, doesn't fit into her surroundings. "Reggie" after a time gets interested in the girl. Everybody points her out as being new to the place, but that doesn't stop every one of the men present from seeking to initiate her into the ways of the tenor.

"Reggie" asserts himself on several occasions, and constitutes himself as the protector of the girl. And there by he incurs the hatred of the rough gang, who threaten to "get him." The business of "Reggie" with his fists gets him out of a number of scrapes, but finally he is challenged by the ringleader, who then in a rough and tumble scrap, "Reggie" accepts, and the two go into a locked room, where one of the wildest of encounters occurs. "Reggie" is the victor, and claims the girl's hand. She, because of her lowly home, declines it. Up to this time she hasn't suspected who "Reggie" is, but she learns later on that "Reggie" and the little girl of the dance hall plight their troth, and all ends well.

"Reggie Mixes In" has plenty of comedy, of the Fairbanks brand, and altogether it is a splendidly interesting picture. Bessie Love, the winsome little actress, plays well the part of the little girl, and in its 12th chapter, takes a new turn, and we see Billie Burke, who plays the leading part, placed under arrest, during her quest of the murderer of "Freddie." It will be recalled that during a visit to the night court, she sees the man she believes killed her lover, and when he is discharged for a trifling offence, she follows him into a place of unusual danger. "Reggie Mixes In" is a picture, whereupon a riot starts and everybody is placed under arrest. And in the meantime, the man who is shadowed escapes. There are many other unusual turns to this story.

"Ambrosia" Cup of Wood with Mack Swain, plays the part of a farmer whose farm is heavily mortgaged, and Miss Henry is the wife who, to lift the mortgage, becomes an artist's model. A story of a young girl and her pictures, the best of which is a Sis Hopkins subject.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?"
Twice rejected by the board of censors as highly improper, but endorsed by Dr. Parkhurst, Paulist superior, John J. Hughes, Paulist superior, "Where Are My Children?" was given without the approval by recognized censors of the Globe and Mail, New York, where it ran for two months to packed houses. It has been presented in Boston all summer in spite of the protests of the censors. It is an engagement at B. F. Keith's theatre beginning Monday, Aug. 28, for one week. It is certain to develop a large following, and it is intended to be an educational one, is woven.

This story is according to the exhibitors, as delicately drawn as possible in the circumstances, if the audience against the premeditated destruction of the unborn is to carry far, but there are no veiled or furtive suggestions, and the disapproval of the censors is a spade as a spade. If the purpose of the drama is realized it will not be because the door is open to a mixed audience, but because the picture is so good.

Twice rejected by the board of censors as highly improper, but endorsed by Dr. Parkhurst, Paulist superior, John J. Hughes, Paulist superior, "Where Are My Children?" was given without the approval by recognized censors of the Globe and Mail, New York, where it ran for two months to packed houses. It has been presented in Boston all summer in spite of the protests of the censors. It is an engagement at B. F. Keith's theatre beginning Monday, Aug. 28, for one week. It is certain to develop a large following, and it is intended to be an educational one, is woven.

This story is according to the exhibitors, as delicately drawn as possible in the circumstances, if the audience against the premeditated destruction of the unborn is to carry far, but there are no veiled or furtive suggestions, and the disapproval of the censors is a spade as a spade. If the purpose of the drama is realized it will not be because the door is open to a mixed audience, but because the picture is so good.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The last chances to see Douglas Fairbanks in pictures, at the B. F. Keith theatre, this season, come today and tomorrow. In a brown and white production called "Reggie Mixes In." It is a high class comedy, with a neat touch of sentiment, and with some excellent acting. The picture is a comedy, and it holds many points of interest, the main one being the presence of the remarkable Fairbanks, who has got into a bad fix, and is in a predicament. Fairbanks is in his own mind in this picture, and it is suspected that much of the comedy is played by him. In fact, it does demonstrate his wonderful athletic ability, and in the closing scenes he engages in a game of hide-and-seek, which literally makes the story shows the ups and downs of life.

"Reggie Van Deuzen," who lives with an aunt and who is the primary cause of the comedy, is a rough routine of life, by chance hits himself to Gallagher's dance hall, just to see what is going on there. His father, a doctor, is a quack, and he is a resort for the questionable characters of the town, but, dancing in the place, is a mere slip of a girl, who, somehow, doesn't fit into her surroundings. "Reggie" after a time gets interested in the girl. Everybody points her out as being new to the place, but that doesn't stop every one of the men present from seeking to initiate her into the ways of the tenor.

"Reggie" asserts himself on several occasions, and constitutes himself as the protector of the girl. And there by he incurs the hatred of the rough gang, who threaten to "get him." The business of "Reggie" with his fists gets him out of a number of scrapes, but finally he is challenged by the ringleader, who then in a rough and tumble scrap, "Reggie" accepts, and the two go into a locked room, where one of the wildest of encounters occurs. "Reggie" is the victor, and claims the girl's hand. She, because of her lowly home, declines it. Up to this time she hasn't suspected who "Reggie" is, but she learns later on that "Reggie" and the little girl of the dance hall plight their troth, and all ends well.

"Reggie Mixes In" has plenty of comedy, of the Fairbanks brand, and altogether it is a splendidly interesting picture. Bessie Love, the winsome little actress, plays well the part of the little girl, and in its 12th chapter, takes a new turn, and we see Billie Burke, who plays the leading part, placed under arrest, during her quest of the murderer of "Freddie." It will be recalled that during a visit to the night court, she sees the man she believes killed her lover, and when he is discharged for a trifling offence, she follows him into a place of unusual danger. "Reggie Mixes In" is a picture, whereupon a riot starts and everybody is placed under arrest. And in the meantime, the man who is shadowed escapes. There are many other unusual turns to this story.

IN POLICE COURT

Young Man Fined $50 for Assaulting Officers of the Law

Joseph Poole, a young man who resides in the vicinity of Liberty square where there has been considerable trouble of late, was arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning on complaints charging him with assault and battery on Constable Henry Thompson and assault and battery on Patrolman Patrick Noonan.

According to the testimony offered by Patrolman Noonan, he was arresting Poole's brother, John, who was having a fight with a woman in the vicinity of the police station. While making the arrest he was assisted by Patrolman McNally when Joseph Poole and a crowd of young men gathered around the officers and attempted to rescue the man under arrest. Patrolman Noonan drew his club and Joseph Poole, it is alleged, grabbed it out of his hand. The arresting officer then gave him the key to the patrol box to Constable Thompson but before the latter was able to send in the alarm Poole pushed him away.

Poole admitted that he protested against the arrest of his brother and said he grabbed the club because he thought the officer was going to use it on his brother. He denied laying his hand on Constable Thompson.

Judge Fisher in summing up the evidence said that it is a very serious matter to interfere with an officer in the discharge of his duty and that in the case of Joseph Poole, he was fined $50 for assault upon Constable Thompson and $20 for assault upon the officer, George F. Toye appeared for the defendant.

The Court Was Lenient

John T. Conlon was charged with drunkenness, larceny of an automobile belonging to Dr. Forster H. Smith, operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and also operating an automobile without a license. Through his counsel, George F. Toye, he pleaded guilty to being drunk and not guilty to the other complaints.

Dr. Forster H. Smith left his automobile in Merrimack square last Thursday night and when he returned for it found it had disappeared. It seems that shortly after parking the machine in front of Barlow's market, Conlon came along and with the assistance of three other young men pushed the machine over to the garage in East Merrimack street where he succeeded in having one of the mechanics get it going. He then operated the car through East Merrimack street but the car got stalled on the hill near the corner of High street.

Patrolman John Sullivan was passing through the street a little while later and finding Conlon asleep in the machine arrested him for drunkenness, but later the other complaints were preferred against him.

Conlon, who resides in North Cambridge, informed the court that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and knew little or nothing of what he did. He said he never operated an automobile. In fact he admitted that whatever the arresting officer said might be true, for he did not know what he was doing.

The court found the defendant guilty and gave him a suspended sentence of one month in jail for larceny, the other complaints being placed on file.

A Thief of Time

Francis J. O'Brien was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a watch valued at $1, the property of Charles Gagnon. Francis denied the allegation, but the court found the defendant guilty on both complaints and

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING IS IN THE EATING

What the sick want is to get well. They do not care whether they are cured by the most scientific physician or the most unlearned neighbor—they don't care how they are cured, only they get well.

For forty years women suffering from female ills have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have been getting well, and because they have got well, that great medicine continues to have a sale equalled by that of few proprietary preparations.

placed the larceny case on file, but on the charge of drunkenness he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Owing to the fact that the complainant is very hard of hearing and there had been a mixup in securing the Christian name of the defendant, it was necessary to make out a new complaint.

O'Brien when arrested said his first name was Frank but afterwards said it was Francis and when asked in court this morning what his name was he said he did not know but thought that it must be Francis.

According to the testimony offered, the complainant and defendant with several others were drinking in a saloon in Central street, yesterday afternoon, when O'Brien grabbed an Ingersoll out of Gagnon's trousers pocket and was trying to make a getaway through an alley in the rear of the saloon when he was grabbed by two men and held until Patrolman O'Keefe arrived on the scene and placed O'Brien under arrest.

O'Brien, testifying in his own behalf, said that he was in the saloon drinking with Gagnon. They both went "broke" and Gagnon told him to "hook" the watch. He said he was starting for a pawnshop when he was arrested.

Disturbed Funeral Procession

Paul A. Borgossian, through his counsel Frank Goldman, entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with interrupting a funeral procession but owing to the fact that the complainant in the case did not care about pressing the matter, the case was placed on file upon the payment of costs of court. Undertaker Charles H. Molloy was driving a funeral through Gorham street last Friday when Borgossian, who was in an automobile, passed through the funeral procession.

Other Offenders

There were several offenders before the court. One man who was arrested on a capias for the non-payment of a $6 fine agreed to pay $12 within a month and he was placed on probation on condition that he carry out the order of the court.

A woman who made her fifth appearance within a year was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail. Another drunk was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Case Continued

The case of John E. Boyle, charged with assault and battery on John J. Hart, Sunday, was continued until Thursday by agreement of counsel.

Assault at Crystal Lake

Manuel Costa Frank, charged with assault and battery on Manuel Amineo entered a plea of not guilty, but after the testimony had been submitted the court found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10. Both men were arrested at Crystal Lake Sunday afternoon and as a result of fooling by dashing at each other and indulging in other frivolities it was alleged that Amineo got mad, whereupon the complainant struck him four or five times on the nose. The men were separated before any serious damage was done.

Neglect of Family

John Galvin entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with neglecting his family. During the course of the hearing, the defendant and his wife accused each other of being to blame. The court after hearing the testimony in the case found Galvin guilty and continued disposition for thirty days.

After about four months' stay at the Portsmouth navy yard, Mr. Carey expects to return to the south.

An alarm from box 91 at 1:15 o'clock this morning, summoned a portion of the fire department to a fire in a Stanley steamer in front of the New American hotel in Central street. The machine was owned by Daniel O'Connell, a delegate to the A.O.U. convention from Newton, who was returning at the time with a party to the hotel. The front part of the machine was badly damaged.

An alarm from box 612, corner of Lakewood and Fred street, N. H. street sounded last night, but when the department arrived it was found that the alarm was false. The number of false alarms sounded from boxes located in Centralville of late has been on the increase and despite the fact that the police have been notified, arrests have been made. It is thought that the alarms have been sounded by boys.

DISEASE SPREADS AGAIN

Number of Cases of Infantile Paralysis Increased Today—150 Cases This Month

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—After an apparent check in the spread of infantile paralysis in the state for several days, sixteen cases were reported up to noon today to the state department of health. A total of 150 cases have been recorded to date this month. The situation has not reached a stage approaching alarm as yet, however, officials said and they added that there was no fear of an extensive outbreak. North Adams, Pittsfield and Haverhill each reported two of the cases announced today.

GAIN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Every borough in greater New York reported a slight gain in the epidemic of infantile paralysis today. During the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning the deaths reported were 39 and in new cases 115. During the preceding 24 hours 33 children died and 92 new cases were reported.

COAL HAS ADVANCED

BUT NOT TOWARD THE CELLAR—HIGH COST OF LIVING STILL CLIMBING

An increase of 25 cents per ton in the retail price of anthracite coal went into effect in this city this morning and the new rates will continue indefinitely.

According to the new schedule broken coal is now selling for $5.75 per ton and egg is $9; stove and No. 1 nut coal have gone up to $9.25. No. 2 nut is $8, Lehigh, $9.50; Franklin, $10.50; No. 1 Buckwheat, $6.50; Cumberland, $8 and Channel, $12.

Local people need not be surprised at the increase for several weeks ago it was forecasted that an advance would go into effect on or before the first of September. The reason for the increase in price is said to be due to the shortage of labor in the mines. It is stated that no mine in the anthracite region at the present time has more than 60 per cent. of its usual help at work.

DEATH OF DANIEL MAY

The state police, at the request of the Ayer police, have started an investigation into the death of Daniel May, the stone cutter who was found dead near his shack in Graniteville Sunday. After the discovery of the body an examination showed that the man's watch and week's pay were missing.

Yesterday morning the staples holding the lock of May's shack were pulled out and the room was in disorder. In one corner of the shack, on a table, was found a Lowell bank book which belonged to May. This had not been there the previous night, the police claim.

Two of May's fellow workers told the police that they had passed the victim's shack on Saturday night and saw May through the window. The man, apparently in a stupor, had muttered something about some one trying to take his watch and money.

Two laborers who occupied a shack near May's shack, the one above referred to, have been missing from Graniteville since the discovery of May's death.

ANOTHER HARVARD VICTORY

An automobile belonging to the Reliable Parcel Delivery Co. crashed into the rear of one of the heavy trucks of the Harvard Street car line in Davis square about 8:30 o'clock this morning, as a result the front end of the automobile was damaged but the truck escaped injury.

The automobile was traveling through Gorham street and upon reaching the corner of Central the operator in order to avoid striking another vehicle made a quick turn and crashed into the rear of the truck. Some of the persons who figured in the accident were injured.

RUBBAGE AND GARBAGE

was to voice her objections to the unhealthful condition of Pollard avenue, which runs from Palge street to John street. This avenue is nothing more than a driveway which runs between the buildings in Merrimack street, from the waiting room to John street, and the buildings in Palge street.

Adjoining this avenue, which was described as an alley, are stores of all kinds, dwelling houses and a couple of restaurants. Mrs. White called attention to the rubbish and garbage which was allowed to remain in the rear of some of these buildings and appealed to His Honor to take some action to remedy these conditions immediately. Particularly in the rear of the Chinese restaurant the conditions are unbearable, said the women, and until this spot is cleaned out, the avenue will be a black spot on the city.

After hearing the women's protests on this place, Mayor O'Donnell said that he would write to the trustees of the building asking them to have the property looked after more carefully and he suggested that the Special Aid committee be asked to take action to be satisfactory to Mrs. White, who stated that the committee would communicate with the trustees, who are Frank E. Dunbar and Joseph Nesmith.

Mrs. Brock then scored the police department for the conditions that are allowed to continue on Pollard street, where she said that the street, the streets and the banks of the Merrimack river in that section are a haven for drunken men and lewd girls who remain there under the influence of liquor without hardly any interference of the police. Mrs. Brock asked the mayor the name of the policeman on the First street, who has claimed that the officer is sick. The mayor said that this was true as Horace Clement, who made a very good policeman for the beat, is ill at the present time.

Mrs. Brock asked why these disagreeable conditions are allowed to go on. The mayor answered that 10 more policemen are needed.

"Are you short of policemen to protect the city?" queried Mrs. White.

"We are literally short," answered the mayor.

"Why?"

His Honor answered that at the first of each year when appropriations are asked for such things as putting on additional policemen, the tax payers make a great howl because they will cost more money despite the fact that the city is badly in need of them. His Honor said that the council was between two fires when the matter of making appropriations came up. The improvements are always badly needed but the tax payers complain if the money is voted.

Speaking of the conditions of streets and alleys again, Mrs. White said that the police officers did not seem to be doing their duty relative to enforcing the laws compelling people to keep their property clean and she asked the mayor why he as head of the police department did not command the policemen on all beats to give the matter serious consideration.

His Honor replied that he had received no co-operation whatever from the superintendent of police relative to this work. He explained that he had written to the superintendent after Mrs. White's first visit to his office but had received no reply.

After nearly an hour's conference the women left the office to await the reply of the trustees of the Nesmith property which they think needs immediate attention.

FRENCH SOLDIER HIT BY SHELL AT BATTLE OF YPRES, FORGETS MOTHER TONGUE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Senator Weeks received an appeal today from Massachusetts constituents on behalf of some of the state troops on the Mexican border, who, it is declared, have received only $6 each since they went to the border more than 2 months ago.

"I am informed," said Senator Weeks, "that enlisted men of the Massachusetts light artillery have received only $6 since they went to the border. I am also informed that the same applies to other Massachusetts and some of the Pennsylvania troops. I shall take the matter up with the war department at once."

New, Positive Treatment to Remove Hair or Fuzz

(Beauty Notes)

Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In two or three minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No fallouts will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.

SHOOTING BECOMES MURDER

LAWRENCE, Aug. 22.—Giovanni Garofalo, an Italian carpenter, who was shot yesterday at Methuen, died today at a hospital here. Angelo Rocci, of Boston, who was shot at the same time, was said by physicians to be in a dangerous condition. The police announced today that search was being made for Edward Burco, of Methuen.

COL. C. J. MERSEAU

Col. C. J. Merseau, a French Canadian who went with the first contingent sent by Canada to the front, spoke French and a little English. He has returned knowing no French, but still retaining the power to speak English. At the second battle of Ypres he was struck by a fragment of shell on the head. He was operated on and lay for months, with but little hope of recovery. He finally pulled through, but without the power of understanding any language but English.

HOT ENOUGH, THANK YOU

A low humidity and a slight breeze raved Lowell from a typical August scorching today. Although it was one of the hottest of the season it was not quite as bad as yesterday neither was it as uncomfortable as two weeks ago today when the humidity and temperature were both high.

During the early hours this morning the thermometer registered 84 but a local shower cooled off the weather somewhat and it was comfortable until about eight o'clock when the mercury began to rise and there was an increase in the humidity. By noon the thermometers in Merrimack square not exposed to the sun varied from 84 to 88, but those which were not sheltered soared up into the 90's and those exposed sizzled with the century mark.

Little hope for relief from the heat is held out either today or tomorrow, the local forecast calling for fair weather today with little change in temperature and light westerly to southeasterly winds, while tomorrow will be fair with similar temperatures and breezes.

Returned to Port After Sinking British Cruiser—British Report Denied

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 22, via London.—An official German report says that a submarine which was rammed after sinking a British cruiser, has returned to port. Whether a second German submarine was destroyed can only be decided when all the reports of submarine have been received.

"Regarding British attempts to deny that a British destroyer was sunk and a British battleship 'damaged,'" the statement says, "we refer to the official German report of August 20, which is maintained in all points."

"The alleged retreat, as stated in the British admiralty report of the sinking of the British cruisers Nottingham and Edinburgh by German submarines in the North sea on Saturday, August 19, said that one German submarine was destroyed and that another was rammed and possibly sunk."

RAILROAD SITUATION
IS MORE HOPEFULCabinet Members Express Belief
That Railroads Will Accept
President's Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—While the railroad executives were working today on a counter proposal to President Wilson's plan for averting the threatened railway strike, the cabinet went over the situation fully and confidence was expressed by members that in the end the railroads would accept the president's plan. What assurances the cabinet had to go on for such a conclusion were not disclosed.

Cabinet members agreed that it was not feasible to hurry the railroad executives into a decision as they had many things to consider.

The counter proposal is expected to be the next step, but there was no outward indication today of when it would be taken.

Sixty Railroad Presidents

The answer of more than 60 railroad presidents, including those of western roads newly arrived to President Wilson's proposal for averting the threatened strike was being formulated today. Every utterance of the railroad heads displayed opposition to the president's suggestion, but it was considered possible a counter proposal acceptable to the employees would be made as the basis for further negotiations.

A committee had in charge the framing of a reply and it appeared doubtful that it could be finished today. The employees' committee of 640 continued to mark time and considered issuing a statement, refuting charges of the railway heads that the president's settlement plan would provide virtually a 25 per cent wage increase, rather than an actual eight hour work day.

A statement issued by the railroad executives said it was impossible to believe public opinion would favor giving up the principle of arbitration and the granting of $50,000,000 increased wages to one-seventh of all railway employees who belong to the union brotherhoods, "without a hearing before a public tribunal."

Petitions bearing signatures of 80,000 employees, not members of the brotherhoods, protesting against a strike were on file at the white house today.

Brotherhood Men Confer

At 10 o'clock this morning the men went into a meeting which was attended by the leaders of all four brotherhoods. A statement in reply to the arguments of the railroad executives on the question of arbitration was being prepared by the leaders and probably will be issued for publication tomorrow. The brotherhood officials described the situation as unchanged. The railroad executives made a formal announcement that a consideration of the situation has been turned over to a committee of eight and that no conclusions had been reached. The members of the committee are: Hale Holden, Burlington; W. W. Atterbury, Pa.; Fairfax Harrison, Southern; Robert S. Lovett, Union Pacific; E. P. Ripley, Santa Fe; A. H. Smith, New York Central; Frank Trumbull, Chesapeake and Ohio; Daniel Willard, Baltimore and Ohio.

Hope For Settlement

In administration circles it was said there was hope for a settlement. The exact nature of the proposal submitted to President Wilson was not revealed, but it was believed it concerned the concession of the eight hour day.

One suggestion understood to be under consideration was the submission of a committee of eight to the investigation of the situation and a provision for making permanent the commission of investigation suggested by President Wilson.

The brotherhood meeting did nothing and adjourned until afternoon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Lowell was represented at the monster convention of the Federation of Catholic societies which opened today in St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city.

At the pontifical mass celebrated at 11 o'clock by His Eminence Cardinal Farley, Rev. Francis Mullin of St. Michael's church, acted as chaplain to Bishop Schrimbs, the head of the Toledo diocese. In the evening Fr. Mullin led the Lowell delegation at the mass meeting held in Madison Square Garden at which 15,000 people were present, representing every state in the Union from Maine to California. Dr. R. J. McCuskey bore the Boston pennant, which, with the Papal and American flags, heralded the entrance of his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell to the hall. Besides Fr. Mullin and Dr. McCuskey the delegates present were: Rev. John Flynn, O.M.I., and Rev. Fr. McDermott, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Sullivan, Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, Miss Mary Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Maguire, Miss Annie Duffy, Dr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Sarah Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrissey, Miss Margaret J. McCuskey, Dr. Joseph A. McLean, Mr. James Hennessy, Mr. John J. Sullivan, Mr. Timothy Kehon, Mr. George Grady, Mr. John V. Donoghue.

At four o'clock this afternoon Cardinal O'Connell received the Boston delegates in the ball room of the Boston House. The affair was very informal and was thoroughly enjoyed by all fortunate enough to be present. After the reception the cardinal spoke briefly and later called upon Mr. Donnelly, who

LOCAL G.A.R. VETERANS AND MEMBERS OF RELIEF CORPS TO ATTEND ENCAMPMENT

Many G.A.R. veterans and members of the Relief Corps and Ladies' auxiliaries of this city left the Middlesex street station on the 8.30 train this morning for Lake Winnepesaukee where they will attend the 40th annual encampment of the New Hampshire Veterans' association which opened today and will continue until Friday. It is expected that the New Hampshire association will be host to 1000 veterans during the encampment which has been named "Camp Augustus D. Sanborn" in honor of the gallant soldier of the famous 5th New Hampshire Volunteers. The program for today will include a reception to visiting comrades by President Charles W. Stevens of the association, assisted by the reception committee, dinner at 1 o'clock, camp fire at 7.30, addresses by members of the order and music.

Tomorrow will be "Ladies' day." The program will be similar to today's with band concerts, speaking and other music. Governor Spaulding of New Hampshire and his suite will attend the encampment Thursday, "Governor's day." Besides the routine program there will be a parade of the New Hampshire Veterans' association and other organizations that participated in the war of the rebellion to escort the governor's party to dinner. Governor Spaulding's address will feature the grand encampment in the afternoon. A 7 o'clock memorial service will be held in the different regimental buildings in memory of their deceased comrades. In the evening there will be a band concert.

Friday's business will include the election of officers and new business.

GROUP OF DELEGATES TO A. O. H. CONVENTION

Delegates Attend High Mass at St. Patrick's Church — Many Women Visitors — Business Sessions This Afternoon—Delegates Welcomed by Mayor O'Donnell—Banquet Tonight

Five hundred and one delegates representing various divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians throughout the state attended this afternoon's session of the convention in Associate hall. The meeting was presided over by State President Donnelly and considerable business was passed upon. James J. Harold of Waltham was appointed chairman of the committee on credentials and the other members of the committee are the presidents of the various county branches throughout the state. Reports of the officers were read and listened to with great interest. The first report heard was that of the state president, which contained all the doings of the organization during the past two years as well as recommendations, which will be acted upon at a later date. Among the recommendations was one that an assessment of 20 per cent per capita be taken for the next two years in order to conduct the business of the state organization in a proper manner. The report of the state secretary, Richard Dwyer contained an itemized list of receipts from the various counties of the state as well as the disbursements. In the report was also contained the number of councils throughout the state, which is 231, the number of military companies, 22; the increase in membership, 2510 and the present membership, 22,541. Dennis J. Slattery, state treasurer, also reported that the receipts since the last convention two years ago were $3573.21, while the expenditures amounted to $5131.12.

After hearing the reports of the officers, the convention adjourned at 2.35 o'clock until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The election of officers will take place tomorrow. It was stated this afternoon that there will be two candidates for state president, Richard Dwyer of South Boston, the present state secretary and T. J. Dowd of Holyoke, the present state vice president. For vice president, it is said, there will be no opposition. State Treasurer Dennis J. Slattery of Weymouth being the only candidate. For treasurer there will be a keen contest for already seven candidates have announced their candidacy.

Another important item at tomorrow forenoon's session will be the report of the committee on resolutions, which was headed by James J. Harold of Waltham. The press committee consists of seven delegates headed by Joseph R. O'Leary of Cambridge.

Women Make Statement to the Mayor — His Honor Declares More Policemen are Needed

Mrs. Martha Van Dyke White, chairman of the Special Aid society for American Preparedness, accompanied by two other women who are endeavoring to make Lowell a cleaner city, held a long conference with Mayor James E. O'Donnell in his office in city hall this forenoon relative to improving the conditions in two places in particular in this city, both of which are within a short distance of Merrimack square. Agent Bates of the board of health was also present. The women who appeared before the mayor with Mrs. White were Mrs. Brock of First street and Mrs. R. H. Walker, all of whom are interested in the Lowell Special Aid Society for American Preparedness.

Mrs. White's chief reason for asking for a hearing before the mayor which are within a short distance of McNamee, president of the state auxiliary occupied the chair and the first business transacted was the appointing of committees. It was after four o'clock when the real business got started.

Convention Opens

The thirty-seventh biennial state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians is in full swing in Lowell and the city is filled with delegates, some of whom have experienced more or less difficulty in securing hotel accommodations. The delegates began to arrive yesterday forenoon and some did not arrive until this morning. The local committee had everything well in hand and the only difficulty experienced was in hotel accommodations, but that has been pretty well ironed out as the hotel proprietors and managers have done all in their power to make room for the visitors.

The convention opened last night with a grand ball at the associate hall and though the weather was a bit too warm for comfort, the prettily decorated hall was well filled with delegates and everybody was happy. There were a great many women in evidence and all were very enthusiastic. There were many happy meetings and the evening's program was thoroughly enjoyed. The committees in charge are entitled to a great deal of credit for the manner in which arrangements were carried out.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, the delegates attended high mass at St. Patrick's church and the beautiful edifice was crowded to the doors. After mass the men and women met at Associate hall, the women holding a business meeting later in Prescott hall. A feature of the forenoon session was the welcoming of the delegates to the city by Mayor James E. O'Donnell. The plea for resistance this evening will be the banquet at the Rollaway. Should the business program be carried along as planned, the convention will adjourn some time late Wednesday. James P. Miskella will be the toastmaster at the banquet.

SUNK BIG BATTLESHIP

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN BATTLESHIP IN THE NORTH SEA

LONDON, Aug. 22, 5 p.m.—A British official announcement this afternoon says his is believed that a German battleship of the Nassau class has been sunk by a British submarine, E-22.

"The submarine E-22, Lieut. Commander Robert Turner, which returned today from the North sea, reports that on the morning of Saturday she made a successful torpedo attack upon a German battleship of the Nassau class. The commanding officer reports that while the ship was being escorted by five destroyers back to harbor, in a damaged condition, he attacked again and struck her with a second torpedo and believes she was sunk."

A PROLONGED STRUGGLE

PARIS Aug. 22.—A difficult and prolonged struggle before the war is ended was predicted today by former Premier Viviani minister of justice in the present cabinet.

In an address before the general council of the department of creuse at Guéret he said: "Although victory is certain it will require hard and prolonged efforts to break the Prussian militarism and prevent recurrence of its crime. There can be no peace before the attainment of victory before adequate reparation is made and before justice triumphs."

In an address before the general council of the department of the Aube, Henri Martin former minister of justice said: "The French will not submit to the peace of the German emperor who boasted he would force his adversaries to accept peace on bended knees. They will accept only such peace as assures them legitimate reparation as well as their independence and security. And they will bear patiently all sacrifices in order that in conjunction with the efforts of their faithful allies such a peace may be imposed."

REPUBLICAN CLUB OF RHODE ISLAND OPENS NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

ROCKY POINT, R. I., August 22.—The national political campaign in this state was opened here today at a gathering of the republican club of Rhode Island, at which Senators Lawrence Sherman of Illinois and Henry Leptin of Rhode Island, assailed the administration's Mexican and financial policies.

"It is undeniably some thing new for a president who is paid $75,000 a year to manage the business of the American people, to take upon his shoulders the management of 13,000,000 people on the other side of our southern border," said Senator Leptin. He asserted that in answer to a presidential threat of the gravest consequence, this country received from Mexico not even apologies, but merely the return of the half naked bodies of our soldiers while we rejoice in the continuance of our cordial relations. He added that "for the sake of commission toward Mexico, we need a change in the administration."

Senator Sherman charged that the government was bordering on bankruptcy because of its financial policy. He said the country was now in the hands of a hydra-headed commission form of government, and that the democratic party had resolved itself into commissions and investigating committees, "leaving no legitimate enterprise able to pursue its business free from their menace." He urged preparation for industrial defense by restoration of a protective tariff.

New England, according to Senator Sherman, who discussed the income tax incidentally, pays more than fifty per cent. of the entire tax of the country.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY
Owing to the number of cases on the police court docket today it was necessary for Judge Fisher to hold an afternoon session.

Stanislaw Morowski was charged with assault and battery on Jan Kasprysk and the latter's wife, Anna Kasprysk. It was alleged that Stanislaw met Jan on Aug. 14 and the former struck the latter, but when Jan was brought into court he asked for a continuance which was granted. It appears that on the day the case was continued he went to Jan's house looking for the latter, but met Mrs. Kasprysk and slapped the latter in the face.

The court found Morowski guilty on both counts and fined him $5 for assault on Jan and $2 for assaulting Anna.

Solemn High Mass

At 10 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated, the men delegates occupying the center aisle, while the women filled the pews in the side aisles. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Edward Fitzgerald, pastor of the Holy Rosary church, Clinton, who was assisted by Rev. William A. Dickey of Gilbertville as deacon and Rev. George P. O'Connor of Malden as sub-deacon. Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church, this city, acted as master of ceremonies. Seated in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Mgr. William O'Brien, P.R., of St. Patrick's church; Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of St. Michael's; Rev. James F. McDermott, C.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church; Rev. John J. Ryan, P.R., of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, and Rev. Timothy P. Callahan of St. Patrick's.

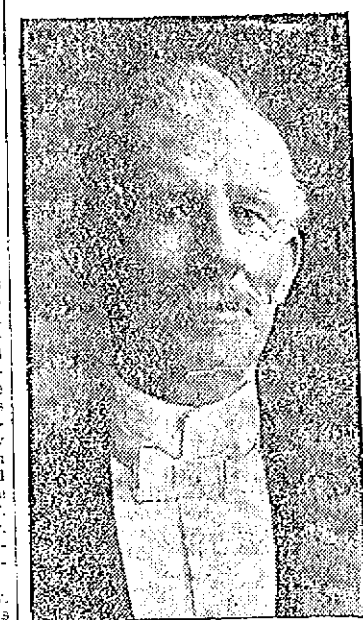

The church quartet, composed of Miss Alice E. Murphy, Mrs. James H. Morris, John J. McNabb and Andrew J. McCarthy, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, who also presided at the organ, rendered Turner's St. Cecilia's mass. As a processional the choir rendered Cardinal O'Connell's "The Cross and the Flag" and a recessional, "Faith and Patherland," by the same author. After the elevation Andrew J. McCarthy sang in splendid voice Hargitt's "O Salutaris." The ushers at the church were George F. O'Meara and James A. Sheehan of Div. 1, John Murphy and J. Joseph McOsker of Div. 2 and Edward J. Flannery of Div. 8.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. John J. Ryan, P.R., pastor of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, who took for his subject, "The Providential Mission of Irish in America." He said in part:

Rev. Fr. Ryan's Sermon

Rev. John J. Ryan, pastor of St. Paul's church, Cambridge, chaplain general of the A. O. H., was the preacher. He spoke on the providential mission of Irish in America and said in part: "This is only what is expected preparatory to a convention of this kind, a religious ceremony. The order of Hibernians sprung up with a love for the altar and through its existence has been an imperial guard defending the priest and church. It is impossible to speak of Hibernianism without one entering upon the ground of religion, because its spirit and purposes are drawn from a religious stage. Direct attention only a single thought, which is the steadfast recognition of authority that has actuated its life and purposes. This is strikingly shown by the progress of the church in America." Reference was made by the preacher to the stream of immigration to the new world, one settling out from Spain and entering in by St. Augustine, Fla., following the gulf states to the Pacific; the other, from the eldest daughter of the church, France, flowing down the St. Lawrence to the gulf and along the Mississippi. Settlements were made by different people and from other motives than those which animated the Spanish and French who sought here religious freedom. Separatists and Puritans declared their belief that they should live without authority and what they termed democracy should guide their religious persuasion.

sions. Then the people from Erin came, not of their own free will, but driven by persecution.

They held steadfast to authority and asking only fair play. They started here and along the Atlantic, coming through the ports of New York, Philadelphia and Boston and short as it is, not having rounded three-quarters of a century as yet, they have succeeded to rear the church, in a way that has astonished the world.

The great archdiocese of New York, Philadelphia and Boston number one quarter of the 20,000,000 Catholics of this country, and they are energetic influences, joining with later accession of immigrants from other lands with a view of building a church throughout the United States that will preserve Christian principles and Christian civilization.

The society has obligations to meet for a new epoch is breaking into the world. Who would have thought two years ago that a new flag would be unfurled, the orange, white and green, and that a star of a new republic would appear? The day of duty devolves upon the society to be ready to lend such aid as may be required when this day of freedom shall have come. Now go forth from this temple of St. Patrick's to legislate on the broadest lines, taking a world view in all deliberations and setting aside any petty differences, or self seeking efforts. God and St. Patrick are the watchword. Remember and live by these and Hibernianism shall go on imperishable to the end of time.

At the close of the mass Joseph J. Johnson rendered a delightful program on the chimes and the selections played were the following: "My Country 'Tis of Thee," "Hail Columbia," "The Wearin' of the Green" and others and the large gathering of men and women remained on the grounds of the church until the chimes concert was over and many vowed their appreciation of the artistic event.

Shortly before noon the delegates including the women of the auxiliary gathered in Associate hall and were welcomed by John P. Sheehan, chairman of the convention committee, who introduced as the first speaker, Hon. James E. O'Donnell. The mayor was given a cheering reception and he rendered an address of welcome, speaking in part as follows:

The Mayor's Address

As mayor of Lowell, I bid you welcome to our city and in so doing permit me to assure you that you will find yourselves in one of the best cities in America, and in the house of your friends. When you go abroad from this hall it matters not whether your steps may take you, or on what mission you may be bent, you may be assured of honest dealing, courteous, hospitable treatment and you will find a good Hibernian there to greet you and assist you in the transaction of whatever business you may have to transact. In Lowell, you will find a few of the oldest Hibernians in point of membership, in the entire United States. While likewise you will meet many of the youngest in years, for our American born Hibernians in Lowell vie with those who came from across the water, in numbers and enthusiasm.

The city of Lowell has had a long and honorable career and among the earliest of its settlers were the Irish. Today they are among the most numerous, most respected and most influential of its citizens, holding positions of honor and responsibility in every walk of life. The city of Lowell has never had occasion to regret their presence and they in turn have never been called upon to blush for the misconduct of any of their own.

harmonious throughout and productive of great good for the organization. I want you all to make yourselves thoroughly at home, while among us, and if there is anything you may desire, ask for it.

President Donnelly Responds

John F. Donnelly, president of the state A.O.H., responded in fitting terms, accepting in behalf of the hundreds of delegates the cordial welcome extended by the mayor. Mrs. McNamee, state president of the auxiliary also addressed the gathering and she was followed by D. J. Murphy of this city, first president of the state organization. Following the discourses a private business meeting was held in the course of which reports of committees were heard.

Last Night's Grand Ball

The convention opened last evening with a reception and grand ball complimentary to the delegates and friends in Associate hall. Although the torrid weather was anything but propitious for an indoor event there was an attendance of nearly 1000 men and women from all parts of the state who greatly enjoyed the program presented and spoke highly of the reception committee of the convention.

The program opened about 8 o'clock after a busy afternoon assigning the delegates to their headquarters. Many did not arrive in this city until early in the evening and they were not able to be present at the opening of the program but nevertheless they made their way to Associate hall sometime during the evening. The hall was handsomely decorated for the event. Green and white were the prevailing colors with red, white and blue bunting and numerous American flags used to advantage in the decorative scheme.

At 8 o'clock a musical program was given by Sheehan's orchestra. This continued, much to the enjoyment of the delegates, until 9:45 o'clock when the exemplification of the degree was by teams from Division 20 of Milton and Division 26 of Wakefield. The latter team was awarded the prize of $50 in gold for the best showing though the judges had a hard time in deciding as the work of both teams was worthy of high praise. The Wakefield delegates were given a hearty cheer by the delegates after receiving the prize. The members of the winning team were:

An initial brigade of Russian troops has arrived at Saloniki to join the entire allies fighting in the Balkans.

The arrival of the Russians has created a profound impression here. Even the Royalists, who have consistently opposed participation in the war by Greece on the side of the entire allies, seemed almost stunned by the news that Russian troops had arrived to take the part in the campaign which under other conditions might have been taken by the Greek army.

The general feeling here is that the bringing in of Russian troops has dispelled definitely the dream of a greater Greece which was conceived a year and a half ago by the then premier Venizelos, who carried Greece well on the way toward entrance in the war with the entire allies.

It is regarded as possible that the presence of Russian forces in Macedonia will effect a change in the attitude of Bulgaria.

In some quarters irritation is displayed at the recent foreign policy of the Greek government which is said to have overlooked the interests of this nation.

OCCUPATION OF KASTORIA BY ITALIANS IS CONFIRMED—CIVIL POPULATION IN FLIGHT

ATHENS, via Paris, Aug. 22.—The occupation of Kastoria and Coryza by the Bulgarian troops is confirmed. News from an official source says that the German, field marshal, August von Mackensen, is with the Bulgarians.

The military movements of the entire allies are hindered by the flight of the civil population from the Bulgarian advance.

Kastoria is 25 miles south of Monastir on the extreme left of the entire in Macedonia. It lies about 20 miles southeast of the city.

Field Marshal von Mackensen was reported at Kovel in July to direct operations against the Russians in Volhynia.

The seizure of the road between Dufresne, my wife, has left her home which was provided for her by me, and this publication is made for the purpose of requesting that no credit be given to her in my name.

WILFRED DUFRESNE, 609 Merrimack street.

Florina and Koritsa, as well as that between Koritsa and Kastoria, also is announced in the statement which bears the date of Aug. 23, and reads as follows:

"On account of the military operations of the entire in the Vardar valley extending east of the Struma north of Tachimo lake, our left wing began on Aug. 18 a general offensive. Bulgarian troops advanced in the Struma valley, occupied the town of Demir Hissar and after an engagement near Stuma on the right bank of the town of Stres, repulsed the British and French on the right bank of the Struma and occupied the left bank between Bulkova and Tachimo lakes. Detachments, following their orders, advanced between the Struma, and the Mesta.

"In the Vardar valley British and French troops have been during the past ten days unsuccessfully attacking our advance positions south and southwest of the town of Doiran, suffering heavy losses from our infantry and artillery fire.

"Our right wing, after a victory over the Serbians near Florina, successfully pursued our plans. Yesterday we occupied the railroad stations of Banika and Ekshian on the railroad from Saloniki to Florina and re-established railroad connection with Monastir. South of Prespa lake we occupied the villages of Zuezbiallopsa and Bresnitsa, thus interrupting definitely connections between Koritsa and Florina, as well as between Koritsa and Kastoria."

FIGHTING ON SALONIKI FRONT BECOMES MORE GENERAL, SAYS FRENCH DESPATCH

PARIS, Aug. 22, 9:35 a. m.—The fighting on the Saloniki front is becoming more general, says a French despatch filed yesterday at Saloniki. In the corner section Serbian troops have captured forts Kaimakadar and Cucurica.

The heaviest fighting is on the front northeast of Saloniki, on the left bank of the Struma river, from Kavajala to Burakli, on the western end of the line hostilities are confined for the most part to artillery.

PARIS REGARDS LANDING OF ITALIANS IN BALKANS AS DEEPLY SIGNIFICANT

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The Italian contingent of troops landing at Saloniki is of important proportions, according to information here. In addition, the Temps in its review of the military situation today alludes to the presence of Russian troops along the Vardar river, which if confirmed, would make the entire campaign in the Balkans a five allied contingent engaged in the Balkans.

The announcement of the landing of Italian troops at Saloniki is regarded here as deeply significant, indicating an important reinforcement of the already large army of the entire allies, composed mainly of French, British and Serbian troops. The Italian movement also is construed as showing that comprehensive political agreements have been arranged in advance, as hitherto it was understood, Italy withheld from participation in the Balkan campaign out of consideration for Greek sensibilities over the predominance of their influence in the eastern Mediterranean. The participation of Italians in the Balkan campaign also is considered another evidence of the international spirit prevailing among the allies and as compared to the sending of Russian contingents to France. By this movement the allies are distributing their effectiveness far beyond their own borders.

ROMANIA'S ATTITUDE CONSIDERED A NEW PHASE IN BALKAN HISTORY

PARIS, Aug. 22.—All the morning newspapers comment at length on the possibility of Roumania joining in the war. The meetings that are in progress and the general tone of comment is that all the various developments in the situation are being seriously considered and the general tone of comment is that the decisive moment for Roumania's action has arrived.

The operations of the Bulgarian armies in Macedonia are interpreted in some quarters as having been undertaken solely with a view to influencing the decision of Roumania. On all sides it is agreed that a new phase in Balkan history is opening, and the decision by the press of the various diplomatic phases of the Roumanian situation is followed by an examination of the strength of the Roumanian army.

The statement is made of good authority that the number of Roumanian troops that can be mobilized exceeds 500,000 and that the army is in the best of condition after a long preparation.

AGITATION FOR WAR HAS BEEN AT FEVER HEAT IN ROMANIA

BERLIN, Aug. 22, via London, Aug. 22.—The Budapest-Az Est which is usually well informed on the Roumanian situation, today prints a despatch from its Bucharest correspondent saying that the agitation for war, which in the last few days has been at fever heat, has subtly cooled down. It is stated that possibly the end of the mobilization is responsible for the change, if not the serious words uttered in the Hungarian parliament.

(This is the first hint of a Roumanian mobilization that has been permitted to pass the allied censorship. Although nothing on the Roumanian military situation from the entire viewpoint has come through since the Balkan situation in its present phase reached a critical stage.)

The Bucharest despatch adds that there is no doubt that Premier Bratianu has reached an understanding with the entire, so that further negotiations are unnecessary now for actual participation in the war. Meanwhile, the semi-official Roumanian press is savagely attacking the conservative organs which undertook to discuss mobilization and related measures.

More ammunition from France and Russia is asserted to be arriving.

The white heat of discussion in Bucharest political circles is now directed to subsidizing, despite the alleged impossibility of the final step. This it asserts to be due to the failure of the Roumans to keep up their recent successes and to the proximity of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to the Roumanian border.

RUSSIANS ASSIGNED POSITION AT SALONIKI WITH SIBERIAN TROOPS

ATHENS, Aug. 22, via London.—After a conference of the French, British, Serbian and Russian commanders at Saloniki today, it was decided that the newly arrived Russian forces should take up positions with the Serbian troops on the southern frontier of Serbia.

The Serbo-Russian force was placed under a combined staff of which the crown prince of Serbia is the nominal commander. The Russian general Friederleitz is in actual command.

PETER RAILS INJURED

Peter J. Rails, a pipe-fitter, residing at 255 High street, had a narrow escape from being badly injured about 10:15 o'clock this morning when he was caught in a shuffling at the Waterhead mills and suffered severe bruises about the arms and body.

Rails was standing on a ladder when his clothing came in contact with a shuffling and caused the injuries which necessitated his being taken to St. John's hospital, where he received the treatment.

MAN EATING SHARK

CAUGHT IN BOSTON HARBOR AFTER LIVELY BATTLE—ONE MAN NEARLY DROWNED

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—After a three-hour battle, during which one man narrowly escaped death, a 650-pound shark, the largest ever brought to this city, was captured yesterday morning in Boston harbor by two Italians of the power dory fishing fleet. The captors of the monster were

Salvatore Bova and Carmelo Scavuzzo. They sighted the shark off Boston Light about 11 o'clock, Sunday night. The big fish was following the dory. The fishermen turned around and Bova drove a harpoon into the body of the shark. Enraged by the stroke of the harpoon, the shark charged the dory and, lashing its giant tail, upset Scavuzzo. He was thrown into the water almost in the jaws of the maddened fish. Scavuzzo swam back to the boat while his partner kept the shark's attention by drawing the line attached to the harpoon. For some time the two men battled with the big fish. Once it came so near the boat that Bova was able to strike its head a hard blow with an oar. This seemed to stun the shark and shortly after the fishermen landed their prize. They received $30 for the shark of the day.

Just as serenely as a man who might have swum 100 yards the Lowell swimmer rested all day, receiving telegrams of congratulation, letters and flowers from enthusiastic friends. Modest, but willing to talk of his experiences and sensations while swimming, Sullivan's appearance belied the statements of experts who have denounced the swim as too grueling for any swimmer. Moreover, he has announced his intention of again attempting the swim, providing the right man approaches him.

A SPECIAL SESSION

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Governor McCall announced yesterday that he would call a special session of the legislature. It is expected that the session will be called some time during the first week of September, when the supreme court is expected to announce its decision on the Suffolk county apportionment case.

While there is no certainty that the court will declare the apportionment to be constitutional it is evident that this decision is anticipated. In the statement made by Acting Secretary Long outlining the reasons for calling the session it is declared that the governor will recommend that provisions be made for the care of dependent families of members of militia on the Mexican border and that a special act will be passed allowing the soldiers to vote for presidential electors and for the United States senate.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL

President Says He Will Veto it if Bill Includes the Literacy Test

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Wilson informed cabinet members today that he will veto the immigration bill again if it is passed by congress with a literacy test. There have been reports that he might sign the bill but the president stated emphatically today that he is still opposed to it because of the test.

The president said he was in different whether congress passed the bill again, as he was determined not to sign it. The word that he would veto the bill went to the capitol and was expected to stop efforts to put the bill through in the senate.

President Wilson vetoed last measure when it was before him on a previous occasion.

The president's announcement which settled the question, arrived just when the democrats were continuing their party row over the action of the nine democrats who refused to be bound by the caucus which decided to let the bill go over and the leaders of the revolt were making caustic replies to the reproaches of Senator Stone.

On the president's word that he would veto the bill, revolting democrats turned about and voted against the motion to take it up. They were Senators Peckham, Chamberlain, Culliver, Lane and Overman. They made the vote 22 to 23.

Senators Ashurst, Hardwick, Myers, Smith of South Carolina, and Vardaman, all democrats, however stuck to their votes to take it up.

The senate's action means that efforts to consider the bill at this session probably will be dropped.

O. M. I. Cadets Gone to Milligan's Grove for Four Days

The day looked forward to by the O. M. I. cadets as the "best in the year" has arrived. At 1.15 o'clock this afternoon, nearly 150 of them assembled in their drill shed in the immaculate Conception school hall, dressed in their khaki uniforms and under the command of Major William F. Conroy marched to the corner of East Merrimack and High streets, where they boarded special cars for Milligan's grove, Wilmington, the spot that will harbor the "little soldiers" until Saturday night.

Many of them carrying guns that were actually larger than themselves besides other equipment, the O. M. I. cadets attracted considerable attention.

OLD FASHIONED WALTZ

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The old fashioned waltz will supplant the aerobic tango in the ballrooms of the nation, if the National Association of Dancing Masters has any influence. In convention here today the dancing professionals decreed that the tango must go. The waltz, the one-step and the fox trot will be the fashionable favorites this season.

MR. EXAUDIAS DUPONT

OLD AND WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF LOWELL DIED SUDDENLY TODAY

Exaudias Dupont, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly today at his home, 447 Moody street. He passed away at 12 o'clock and had been a resident of this city for the past 47 years.

Mr. Dupont, who retired from active work about 15 years ago, never complained of being ill and this morning despite his advanced age he seemed to be enjoying the best of health. He chatted with his wife and shortly before noon while seated in his arm chair, he passed away. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two sons, Arthur and Ernest J. and a sister, Mrs. Fabien Desroches, the latter of St. Hyacinthe, Que. Mr. Dupont was favorably known in Lowell as a real estate owner.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning from the home, 447 Moody street at 8.30 o'clock. Solemn high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock. Friends invited. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers Amodee Archambault & Son.

PRESIDENT VETOES BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Pres. Wilson today vetoed a bill allowing cities and townships to buy public lands, including forest lands in their vicinity, for parks, cemeteries and sewerage. The president vetoed the bill on the ground that the national forests should not be utilized in that way.

MAJOR WILLIAM F. CONROY

as they paraded headed by the drum corps to the special cars. A squad of the cadets had already started over the road with the heavy equipment, but there were two good carloads of headquarters when the signal was given to start.

Less than an hour was occupied in traveling from this city to Milligan's grove and then work was started to establish the military camp. Each man was assigned to his particular duties and in a short time the grove began to take on a military aspect with 20 tents and other equipment practically set up.

Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I. chaplain of the cadets, accompanied the boys to camp and will have general charge during their stay there with Major Conroy supervising the military drill, etc. Matt McLean, the athletic instructor, also reported to camp today.

Beginning with mess this evening, the regular program will be carried out as was printed in yesterday's Sun. The greater part of this evening will be spent in fixing up the tents and camp. Tents will be sounded at 9 o'clock when all lights will be put out and every soldier ordered to bed.

WONDERFUL WAR GAME

BATTLESHIPS OF THE BLUE IN—AND DESTROYING THE ENEMY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—An enemy of great strength conveying 30 arrived within 600 miles of the Atlantic coast at six o'clock this morning and the greatest war game ever undertaken by the navy department began.

Within an hour the 12 battleships of the "Blue" defending fleet were speeding to sea behind a far-flung line of destroyers and scouts, intent upon locating and destroying the enemy.

Admiral Mayo commands the "Red" fleet and Admiral Helm the "Blue." Rear Admiral Knight, president of the navy college aboard the super-dreadnought Pennsylvania will umpire the game in which seventy fighting craft are engaged.

The reserve battleships forming the "Blue" fleet mainline are manned by naval midshipmen and civilian volunteers.

Admiral Mayo has until September 1 to evade the "Blue" fleet and effect a landing at any point between Cape Hatteras and Eastport, Maine.

SPECIAL MEETING

TODAY'S SESSION OPENED

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Views of some of the leading priests and laymen of the Catholic church upon the situation in Mexico, received further definition today in the conventions here of the American Federation of Catholic societies, the Catholic Young Men's National Union and the German Catholic Central Verein. The annual report of Mitchell J. Slattery as president of the Young Men's organization which is on the program for today is expected to deal with the condition of the Catholic church in Mexico. Mr. Slattery spent fifteen years as a mining engineer in that country.

Business sessions of the federation and its allied organizations were held this morning, when some of the subjects discussed in the reports of president Joseph Frey of the Verein, and of Anthony Matre, secretary of the federation, were taken up. Mr. Matre in his report yesterday criticized some of the features of modern life which he regarded as evil, including phases of the moving picture business, sex divorces, improper plays and attacks on Christianity. A women's session of the federation was a feature of the morning program.

Tonight there will be a mass meeting under the auspices of the Central Verein, and the Young Men's union will attend a banquet and listen to addresses by officials of the union and others.

Women's Session

At the women's session Bishop P. J. Muldoon of Rockford, Illinois, urged about 200 delegates to join every state, county and city civic movement in their communities.

"Don't stand back and say 'We Catholics are not wanted and won't get a fair chance,'" he said. "My own experience is that people of other beliefs not only are fair to us Catholics, but are most anxious for us to join with them in work for the general good."

Miss Helen Hancy of Randolph, Mass., who presided at the women's meeting, made a similar plea. "Are Catholic women going to sit quietly by," she said, "and allow the Young Women's Christian Association to forever usurp the christian name in association welfare? If Catholic womanhood is ever to interpret itself to the American mind and make manifest its claim to superiority, let us open our clubhouses and our league houses to our young girls."

JAPANESE EMBASSY SO CHARACTERIZES RUMOR CONCERNING PANAMA LAND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—At the Japanese embassy today it was said that published reports of alleged Japanese aggressions in the isthmus of Panama for acquisition of coaling station which was considered part of proposition to alarm the United States was so ridiculous as to make a statement of denial unnecessary.

FUNERALS

RIGG.—The funeral of Mildred Ruth Rigg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rigg, took place this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock from the home of her parents, 10 Billerica street. Owing to the cause of death being diphtheria the funeral was private. Burial was in the family lot at the Edison cemetery where prayers were read by Rev. E. C. Hamette of the French Baptist church. Undertakers O'Connell & Mack in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICE

PAQUIN.—The funeral of Dovidia (Dion) Paquin will take place Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock from the home of his parents, 22 Wythe street. High mass will be sung at St. Jean Baptiste church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Undertaker Albert & Foa in charge.

FRENCH-AMERICAN ORPHANAGE

The annual outing for the children of the French-American orphanage is being held at the Tewksbury novitiate today and the affair, according to the little ones, is the best ever. The boys and girls numbering over 200 left by special cars at 8.30 o'clock this morning and en route they filled the air with patriotic and religious hymns. They were accompanied by the sisters. The cause of the orphanage as well as by several clergymen.

Upon reaching the grounds the boys and girls were let loose and several games were soon in progress, among which was the traditional baseball game. Sports of all kinds were carried out much to the delight of the little ones. At noon a beautiful dinner was served on the green and the afternoon was spent in a most delightful way. The affair was again under the auspices of the members of St. Joseph's sewing circle, and present among the clergymen were Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O. M. I. chaplain of the circle, Rev. Antoine Amyot, O. M. I., Rev. C. A. Paquette, O. M. I., Rev. Arnold Baron, O. M. I., and Rev. Joseph Denis, O. M. I. The return trip will be started at 6.30 o'clock.

ICE WAGON LOST WHEEL

A heavy ice wagon belonging to the Daniel Gage Co. became disabled in Merrimack street, near city hall, about 2.30 o'clock this afternoon when one of the wheels fell off. As a result the wagon was held up and the ice was being transferred from the disabled wagon to another that was sent from the company's houses. The wagon was taken away to be repaired.

HEAT, OR SOMETHING

A number of the laborers employed at the Pawtucket bridge left their work this forenoon, claiming to be dissatisfied with the conditions. At the office of the company constructing the bridge this afternoon it was stated that the men expressed some dissatisfaction and were told that they could go home if they desired. "Some went and some returned to work," one of the officials said.

OVERCOME BY HEAT

Annie Graham, aged 20 years, was overcome by the heat at the Chambers street playgrounds this afternoon and removed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where she received treatment.

NEWS TO GERMANY

Didn't Know That Oswego Had Been Attacked Until Note Was Received

BERLIN, Aug. 19, via London, Aug. 22 (Delayed).—Concerning the American note regarding the steamer Oswego, said to have been fired upon by a submarine, the statement was made today that German naval authorities have no information of any sort in this connection, the American note being the first intimation here of the matter. Efforts are being made by the authorities to clear up the case.

DANCE ON THE GREEN

ARRANGEMENTS FOR DANCE ON SOUTH COMMON COMPLETED AT COMMITTEE MEETING

Arrangements for the municipal dance to be held on the South common on the evening of Aug. 31 were completed at a meeting of the committee held at city hall last evening with Chairman Harvey B. Greene in the chair. It was decided to eliminate the national dance features as well as the Maypole dance on account of the brief time in which to prepare the event and the cost involved.

The program agreed to last evening was as follows: Band concert from 7.45 o'clock to 8 and then grand march led by Mayor and Mrs. O'Donnell. Following the grand march general dancing will be started and continued until 10.30 o'clock.

The dancing space will be wired off and 20 police officers as well as Boy Scouts will be on hand to see that everything moves along smoothly. The dancing numbers planned and their orders are as follows: One step, waltz, one step, fox trot, one step, waltz, fox trot, one step, fox trot, one step and waltz. Everybody is invited to participate in the general dancing, and all will be free. Those present at last night's meeting were as follows: Chairman Harvey B. Greene, Mrs. Julian B. Keyes, Miss Josephine Ockington, Miss L. Blanche Perrin, John H. Murphy and Supt. Kernan.

PLANT JUICE WAS GREAT SENSATION

Has Been Introduced in Many Large Cities and Public Flocks to Test Its Merits

Unusual interest has been created in this city within the last few days since the announcement that Plant Juice, the great herbal stomach remedy is to be introduced at Dows, the Druggist, in Merrimack Square, to prove its wonderful curative powers in stomach trouble and its complications.

At these novel tests, those who wish are given free samples of this wonderful preparation, which is manufactured from the roots, herbs, barks, and berries of medicinal plants.

In the large Western cities where Plant Juice has been introduced, people suffering from stomach, liver and kidney trouble have made astonishing statements at the quick relief given them.

The world is full of half-sick, ailing people, who, through their unnatural ways of living, forced upon them by overwork, eating their meals hurriedly, over-eating and being on nerve tension, have become irritable, ambitious and consequently, they lack vitality, are susceptible to colds, their tongues are coated and complexion sallow.

Great interest has arisen in the reports from various cities regarding the great benefit received by people in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, heartburn, sour stomach, and sleeplessness. Health is indeed life's excuse—ill health offers nothing but discouragement and dread.

The uses of Plant Juice are many, for it has a gentle laxative effect that gradually makes cathartics unnecessary. It cleanses the whole system in a manner as to make perfect digestion of food; it increases the appetite, prevents headache, dizziness, and that tired-out, run-down feeling, due to a deranged stomach. It is certain, harmless in action, and is the ideal remedy for the old and young, and is sold on a money-back basis.

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, the Druggist, Merrimack Square, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Hibernianism in Lowell dates back far beyond quarter of a century, and the organization was particularly active 25 years ago. New divisions had been started within a short time and so prosperous were all the local divisions that the idea of a central body for Lowell, was promulgated and carried through to success. There was some discussion of the matter of erecting a Hibernian building, but instead of so doing the divisions selected the Howe building where they now associate for a central meeting place.

The Sun of quarter of a century ago said:

"A mass meeting of Hibernians was held Sunday in Hibernian hall, Market street, to consider the question of a central executive council for the five local divisions, a project that has been talked about for some time by several of the leading members. A committee of five was appointed from each of the divisions to form a central executive council and it was also voted to have a committee of five appointed to attend the meeting of the divisions and bring the action of the meeting more prominently before them. Those appointed were John A. O'Donnell, for division 1; Joseph L. Quinn, for division 2; John J. Quinn, for division 3; Thomas F. Reath, for division 4; and John O'Brien, division 5."

"The directors of the insurance organization connected with the A.O.U. have called a meeting to be held in Worcester on September 28. The object of the convention is to promote the insurance feature among the lodges throughout the state. One agent from each division is requested to attend the convention in order to become thoroughly familiar with the benefit organization. Mr. Charles H. O'Donnell is the treasurer of the fund. Although established but a few months 600 members have entered the insurance organization, but an effort is being made to increase this membership ten-fold. There are 10,000 members of the order in the state and if a majority of them would take up this feature, the insurance provided would be the cheapest and most reliable to be found anywhere."

Supt. Whitcomb Starts In
Just quarter of a century ago, before the opening of the schools the school board held a meeting at which Hon. George P. Lawton, the retiring superintendent made his farewell address and introduced his successor, Arthur K. Whitcomb.

Seaton and Mack
Quarter of a century ago, at this time of year William J. Seaton, American born and popular Irish tenor of days gone by and Andrew Mack then a promising young singer and actor appeared in Lowell within a few days of each other. The old Sun referred to them as follows:

"Miss Fannie Rice got a royal welcome at the Opera House last night, from a crowded house and was made the recipient of a pile of bouquets and baskets of flowers. 'A Jolly Surprise' which was given last night, will be repeated this afternoon and evening. The singing of Miss Monford was excellent and Miss Miller and Mr. Mack were decided hits in several selections. The whole company is good."

"On Wednesday William J. Seaton in 'Mavourneen' filled the house to overflowing. 'Mavourneen' is a typical Irish play and was finely presented. A good many patrons of the Opera House would like to see 'Mavourneen' and hear Seaton again."

Jolly Fannie Rice was a Lowell girl and her young days resided in the vicinity of Hoxford square, and Andrew Mack, whose name originally was McAlon, while a North End, Boston boy, had relatives in this city, and frequently visited here in days gone by. When Seaton was at the height of his fame Mack had not been heard of as a star, but made a big hit and attracted the attention of the managers as leading man for Fannie Rice, in 'A Jolly Surprise', Chauncy Olcott had not reached the height of stardom in those days and Seaton and Joe Murphy, 'Kerry Gow', another Lowell actor, had the whole field of Irish drama and Irish ballad singing to themselves. Fannie Rice had previously been a substitute in one of Rudolph Aronson's celebrated New York Casino comic opera companies and was associated with such stars as Lillian Russell, Pauline Hall and Marie Jansen, all of whom became headliners in their own right subsequently. Playing with them were such noted comedians as Francis Wilson, James T. Powers, and Jeff De Angelis, and one by one they all quit the Casino company and headed companies of their own with success. While with Fannie Rice Andrew Mack played the part of a down-and-out Italian singer and impressario, who seeks a job as manager for Fannie who had histrionic aspirations.

His rendition of the good old song 'Goodbye Sweetheart, Goodbye', in broken English, was a big hit as was his exchange of repartee also in broken English, with the irrepressible

Fanny. When Seaton's health broke down an enterprising manager took hold of Andrew Mack and put him in Irish drama with some success. Mack proved to be not only a fine singer but a first class actor and he made a fortune.

Charlie Moran's Big Foul

Speaking of old time theatres and theatricals the old Sun said: "That commodious little place of amusement, Music Hall will be opened to the public next Monday evening by Messrs. Thomas and Watson, who have had one year's experience at providing entertainment for the public of Lowell. The hall has been completely renovated and now looks better than ever. Messrs. Thomas and Watson propose to have the best companies they can engage. The services of Mr. Charles Moran, the veteran stage manager, have been secured for the season. The opening attraction will be 'Who Owns the Baby,' and this will be followed by 'A Surprise Party' for the remainder of the week."

In those days, while the Opera House ran the big road shows the Music Hall catered to popular priced attractions, and it was Thomas and Watson who brought the first resident stock company to Lowell, opening with one in which they played the leading comedy roles, both being fairly good low comedians. They then introduced Ethel Tucker and Percy Meldon to Lowell and made money with them for several seasons, abandoning the stage themselves, as performers. Later they went to Boston and engaged a theatre at the corner of Dover and Washington streets where they packed them away for several seasons with blood-curdling melodramas, in the good old days when motion pictures were unknown. Charlie Moran, the veteran stage manager, referred to, was also an old time light-weight boxer, and had been in many an encounter, but finally gave it up and occupied his time with the less strenuous career of a stage manager.

When Martin Flaherty was just coming along in the music world, one of his most ardent admirers was Charlie Moran, and while things hadn't been breaking very well for Charlie about the time that Martin fought Bobby Burns in Providence, Charlie got together a little money and went with the Lowell sports to Providence to see the bout. Upon arriving there, he placed all the money he had on Flaherty, remarking that if Martin lost he'd have to walk home. In the early part of the bout Martin was getting his head punched off, and things looked mighty bad for the Lowell boy. The Lowell sports saw his finish and old brother Joe who was in his corner to throw in the sponge, and save him a bad beating. But Joe maintained that Martin would prove to be a come-back kid as the bout went along and declined to quit. Somewhere about the 16th or 17th round when it looked as if Martin would go another round Charlie Moran gave up hope, and as he couldn't bear to see the K. O. sign planned on his favorite he went out into an ante-room and started to weep. After shedding a few tears he happened to glance upon the floor and there to his astonishment he saw a slip of paper lying waiting for someone to pick it up. Charlie slid to it and made a perfect slide. It meant that he would be able to get back to Lowell without the aid of a cattle train, and somewhat more hopeful he went back to the ringside.

Just as he got back a Providence knock-out cried out: "Ten to ten Burns knocks him out."

Out came the treasured five spot. "Cover it!" cried Charlie and the Providence man laid $50 against Charlie's new found V. A moment later Martin received a blow on the jaw that knocked him head over heels into his own corner. He was "quicker" for just a second but as the referee slowly counted to ten, Martin quickly revived, and with wonderful presence of mind, while lying on the mat reached his gloved hand into the palm in his corner and grabbing the sponge dashed water on his face and then sprang to his feet before the fatal number had been announced. From that time on he gained strength, and finally put Burns away for the count, while Charlie Moran came home to Lowell in a Pullman and blew the boys off to Mumm's.

Went It Alone
Just quarter of a century ago Mr. Hugh C. McKee, placed "ad" in the old Sun announcing the fact that he had bought out his partner John S. Shea and would henceforth conduct the wall paper business of Shea and McKee, on his own account, which he continued to do with success for 25 years, recently having retired from business.

Old Time Prohibits
Little is heard from the prohibitionists as a political party, in Lowell these days, though there are some in town. Quarter of a century ago in the days of the political conventions they were on deck, and the old Sun tells us that the following were the delegates elected to the prohibition state convention: Alfred Nicholls, J. K. Fellows, John McKee, William F. Flanagan, H. C. Flanders, W. M. Dickey, E. H. Ranger, John A. Tucker, J. M. Hodge, J. A. Nicholls, Philetus Burnham, D. E. Kelly and Robert Lord.

Catholic Collegians Organize
Says The Sun of quarter of a century ago: "The Lowell Catholic collegians met on Wednesday and elected the following officers: President, J. Joseph Hennessy; vice president, Frank J. Sullivan; secretary, William J. McCluskey; board of governors, Charles J. Cosgrove, George Caluso, W. J. Leonard and Dr. J. B. O'Connor. It was voted to hold the annual ball in Mechanics hall, on December 30th, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Hennessy, Cosgrove and O'Connor, was appointed to make the arrangements. The boys attending Ottawa college had taken their departure before the meeting. The following leave for 'Holy Cross' college next Tuesday: John O'Connor, Joseph Hennessy, Charles Cosgrove, Thomas J. Mulligan, John Savage, John McSorley, Dennis Murphy, Richard J. McCluskey, William J. McCluskey, James Longman, Charles Lynch, Patrick Sullivan, James O'Connor, John O'Hearn, William Finnell and Simon Cox."

BREMEN'S PORT

Submarine Merchantman Expected to Put in at New London

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 22.—Captain Cullison of the tug Hansa, formerly the Thomas F. Timmins, said today it was true that the Eastern Forwarding company, to which the cargo of the German submarine Deutschland was assigned, has leased a pier at New London, Conn. Previous reports that such a step had been taken in anticipation of the arrival there of the Bremen, sister ship of the Deutschland, have been denied.

It was reported in German circles here today that the Hansa, which conveyed the Deutschland in American waters, would go to New London before the end of the month and that much of the movable property of the Eastern Forwarding company would be taken there from Baltimore. According to this story, the Bremen left a German port Aug. 14.

THE B. & M. SITUATION
ROAD MAY GO INTO HANDS OF RECEIVER — NOTES DUE AUGUST 31
BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The question of whether the Boston & Maine railroad shall go into the hands of a receiver will probably be settled today, when the board of directors meets to decide what shall be done about the $13,000,000 notes which fall due on Aug. 31. The reorganization committee and the local line interests have reached an apparent deadlock over the reorganization plans. The situation has become so hopeless that the directors may vote not to ask for an extension of the notes, which would mean either voluntary bankruptcy or a multiplicity of attachments on the property.

A receivership is most likely, according to the statement last evening of President James H. Hustis, the man who took the presidency of the system two years ago.

LAUNDRY DRIVERS' ASSOCIATION
The Laundry Drivers' association, a comparatively new organization in Lowell, motored to Nantasket beach Sunday, and to see what they enjoyed themselves would be putting it mildly. They had a bully good time. President Augustine P. Slattery had general supervision of the outing, while Secretary Sheehan looked after refreshments. All laundries in Lowell, except one, were represented. The drivers will meet Thursday night at Vice President Heatherton's house, 24 Forest street, at 8 o'clock.

HELD ANNUAL OUTING

CHINESE HAD BULLY TIME AT SALEM, N. H.—BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION
SALEM, N. H., Aug. 22.—The annual outing of the Chinese Business Men's association of Boston was held here yesterday, some 700 coming by special train early and leaving the park at 10.30 last evening. About 20 were accompanied by their wives and about 30 children. The Chinamen were dressed in the manner usually seen at the park, a few silk outside blouses being noticed. They mingled freely with other visitors, particularly watching the dancers and boating. The scheduled sports were postponed on account of the heat, which was the reason why a big green-headed, gold-backed, six-legged dragon to be carried by three men and a boy in a parade around the track, was not taken out. Every one of the party to the last unit enjoyed the day. The arrangements were in charge of Soo Wing Ye Wah Hop and Chin Eng, all of Boston.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—One of the biggest fields that ever started at North Randall will participate in the 218 trot, opening today's grand circuit race program, and the event is expected to be one of the big features of the meeting. Thirteen horses are to start. Sister Strong, the Valentine entry and Roy McKinnery, Murphy's Mare, are the favorites.

Three other events are carded, the 212 pace, purse $1,200; the Glenville 3 year old trot, stake $1,350 and the 205 pace, purse $1,200.

ARMOUR CO. MANAGER DEAD
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—P. A. Valentine, aged 35, manager of the Armour Packing interests in New York, died yesterday at his summer home at Oconomowoc, Wis.

Mr. Valentine was long associated as employee and partner of the late Philip D. Armour. He married the widow of P. D. Armour, Jr. About 10 years ago he removed to New York city, where he took charge of the Armour interests. He was a director of the National City bank, New York, and of a number of railroad and industrial corporations.

RAILROAD STRIKE MENACE

It looks now as if President Wilson had practically given up hope of reaching a peaceful settlement of the conflict between the railroads of the country and the four great brotherhoods. He has come to the conclusion that compulsory arbitration is the only remedy in such cases as the present and urges that congress take early action to make a recurrence of the present trouble impossible in the future.

For years, The Sun has pleaded for compulsory arbitration of all disputes involving the huge of public service utilities. For constitutional reasons no such law was enacted. It was considered un-American to compel a man to work against his will and so the trainmen were willing and even glad to approve the Newlands act passed in 1913 for providing a means of settling by arbitration such difficulties as the present.

But of what use is the Newlands act when the brotherhoods that favored it then refuse to submit to it now? They favor President Wilson's plan for the eight hour day; but this the railroad heads say is impracticable and to them wholly unacceptable. Thus the whole question reverts back to the deadlock which brought the parties in conflict to Washington in the first place. Still the president will make another attempt to avert a strike that while it lasted would be as disastrous to this nation as a great war. It would mean in reality an industrial war that would paralyze business and commerce and bring suffering and starvation to many thousands of people throughout this country.

In the face of such a situation it is no wonder that President Wilson has declared openly in favor of a compulsory arbitration law that would make strikes and lockouts illegal in all public service utilities, and submit all disputes between employer and employee in a tribunal created for that purpose. Until such a law is enacted this entire country and all its people will be at the mercy of the railroad brotherhoods or worse still, the I. W. W. It is only a few weeks since Joseph R. E. declared that he and his adherents would soon be able to tie up the entire business of the country by a general strike and thus compel the concession of the demands made by these social revolutionists wholly regardless of their justice or their tyranny.

In view of such a menace to the peace and welfare of this nation, it is imperative that congress take up this matter at once and enact a law prohibiting strikes on railroads and other public utilities that would injure the general public. The establishment of a proper court of arbitration will be a necessary adjunct of such a law. All this can be done under the public welfare provision of the constitution and it should be done without delay.

The risk of such a national calamity as a nationwide railroad strike is to be dreaded fully as much, if not more, than a war with Mexico, or even a greater power. The rights of labor and capital are involved but the rights of the general public are also involved and should stand paramount in all such controversies, for the reason that the rights, interests and the safety of all the people are superior to those of any part of the people and should not be abrogated, sacrificed or ignored because the railroads cannot agree with their employees on the question of wages. In future, such matters should be submitted to a court of justice for adjudication in a manner that will be fair to all parties. That is the aim of compulsory arbitration. Let us have it at the earliest possible moment. The Australian plan for such arbitration has worked well and given general satisfaction. It seems to offer the greatest possibilities of industrial peace, and as such, may well be adopted by this country.

But the demand of the hour is for a means of settling the present trouble. That can be done only by mutual concession, and it appears that both parties to the conflict are about equally set against yielding anything; so that until they change their attitude no settlement is possible. The application of the eight hour day with time and a half for overtime is the great stumbling block. The reads say the increase under such a change would reach $50,000,000 per annum and give engineers a wage that would be considered wholly exorbitant and out of proportion to that paid other employees.

There is one thing upon which the public can rely without fail and that is that whatever concessions the railroads may make, will be charged up with added interest to the patrons of the roads. In other words, whether the brotherhoods extort ten or fifty million dollars from the railroads, the public—the consumer in the final analysis, will have to pay the full amount and perhaps a great deal more.

SAVING THE BABIES

We have only a few cases of infantile paralysis in Lowell, but at present the hot weather is a serious menace to all babies that are not properly protected against its severity. This protection implies coolness, cleanliness, fresh air, proper feeding and proper rest. These essentials may be difficult if not impossible to attain where there is no means of keeping milk on ice and where there is nobody who understands how susceptible the baby is to various ills as a result of the heat.

Cholera infantum is the great danger to be guarded against, but while it may come on suddenly it is usually the result of weeks of suffering from the effects of hot weather, soured milk, intense heat both by day and by night, and impure air. It should be remembered that one feed of changed milk may bring on illness that will eventually kill the child. It is generally a number of minor discomforts that upset a child, bringing on stomach or other troubles that finally end in cholera infantum.

Parents who have not the proper facilities for preparing food for babies should call at the milk station on Dutton street, where the matron or the nurses will instruct them in the preparation of modified milk and in other ways of protecting the children against hot weather complaints.

THE WAR SITUATION

It is hardly credible that Germany, as some allege, is voluntarily yielding territory to the allies that she fought with all her might to conquer. The fact seems to be that the allies, having reached a state of preparedness somewhat approaching that of Germany at the beginning of the war, are forcing things by formidable offensives on all sides. France and Britain on the west, Russia overwhelmingly on the east, Italy on the south and another drive from Salonika. No longer can Germany call troops from one front to fight on another. The allies are breaking through on all sides but only after hard fighting. This position cannot last long and the greatest inroads are likely to be made by Russia now entering Hungary and pressing the enemy hard at other points. Still Germany is fighting desperately on all sides with no and that they will see enough of our good city to enable them to carry away an adequate idea of its industrial greatness. The A.O.I. is stronger in Lowell than in most cities of equal size and in the local divisions are many of the pioneers in promoting the interests of the order not only in Middlesex county but throughout the state.

The convention of the women's auxiliary being simultaneously held here is also an event of considerable importance. The members of the auxiliary are all active workers in the cause of charity and to them is due a large part of the credit for much of the benevolent work accomplished by the order.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

So far as the experiments with the use of blood serum from parents as an antidote for infantile paralysis in their children has gone, the death rate among the New York patients seems to have undergone a notable reduction. But the results are not sufficient to warrant any reliable conclusion. Nevertheless, the use of the serum will be continued and it may open the way to an effective cure.

The Germans apparently fooled the British naval commanders in making a feint of coming out for a naval battle and drawing the British cruisers within reach of the submarines lying in wait for them.

SEEN AND HEARD

It would be a great deal easier to love our fellow men if more of them were lovable.

Perhaps you have noticed that the same people who fuss in the summer about the heat fuss in the winter about the cold.

The man who mails a letter once a month is one of the loudest advocates of one-cent postage.

People who think there aren't so many flies as usual this summer may change their minds when they get settled down in a country boarding house.

There are a great many cold, unfeeling men in the world, but you may not relish it at first sight when the mercury is up to 90 degrees.

It must be very unattractive to a woman suing for divorce not to have the case contested.

The Vanished Smile

"How long has this restaurant been open?" asked the would-be diner.

"Two years," said the proprietor.

"I'm sorry I did not know that before," said the proprietor, looking better off if made to come here then.

"Well, I should very likely have been served by this time if I had," said the proprietor's smile vanished.—Stray Stories.

Drying the Grave

One day a philosopher was meditating in the fields outside the city of Tientsin, China. He noticed a woman weeping bitterly beside a fresh grave, which she was fanning vigorously, and said:

"Sorrowful one, what is your trouble?"

"My honorable excellency, my husband is dead."

"No doubt he was a good husband, and the grief he is pitted, but why are you fanning his grave?"

"Exalted one," replied the woman, "my husband made me promise not to marry again until his grave was dry."

Way to a Man's Heart

A young woman who thought she was losing her husband's affections went to a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter for a love powder. The mystery woman told her:

"Get a raw piece of beef, cut flat

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the cause of their thinness lies untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol cleanses the system, restores constructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of food, and pass them on to the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result will follow the use of Sargol. Healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. The Lowell Pharmacy and other druggists will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package. Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, a gain of weight is desired.

about an inch thick. Slice an onion in two, and rub the meat on both sides with it. Then on each side over a red coal fire. Drop on it three lumps of butter and two sprigs of parsley, and get him to eat it. The young wife did so, and her husband loved her ever after.

Looked Like Frog

The conditions in the trenches were dreary in the extreme after the trenching and long-continued rainfall, but the tireless spirits of the "Pals" were not yet entirely quenched.

"Hurry up out of this, my gallant soldiers," was the cheery call of the sergeant to his waist-deep and rain-soaked troops.

"Soldiers!" came the derisive answer from one of them. "I'm not a soldier; I'm a bulrush!"

That Would Help

Loud and angry had waxed the discussion in the local St. George society on the war.

Mr. Meek was getting quite tired of the subject, so he presently rose from his easy chair and picked up his hat. Just then another member said authoritatively that in his opinion the war would last another 18 months.

"Ah," said Mr. Meek, pausing at the door, "that may be. But if another country would only come in on our side, the war would end in a couple of weeks."

"What country's that?" asked several in surprise.

"The United States," replied Meek, as he faded through the door.

WILSON PRAISED

President's Attitude in Strike Question Makes Hit in Washington

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Each day brings a new prediction as to the date of adjournment. That it will be near September first is, however, conceded by nearly everyone except men of radical views who still feel that the disputed measures may yet be brought up for a vote at this session. The adjournment bill is likely to be held over in spite of all talk to the contrary. Senator Ellison Smith of South Carolina, who is chairman of the committee and who threatened to have the matter made at this session, is now on his plantation looking after the crops and rumors say it is not entirely by accident that he is absenting himself at this moment, but a matter of legislative wisdom. The immigration bill may be brought up in the senate and a vote taken as to whether or not it shall lay over till December, but a vote on the passage of the measure seems at this moment to be extremely doubtful.

The president's veto of the army bill is thought to delay the matter only a few days, and that the bill will go back to the senate and house with the objectionable retirement cause eliminated, and possibly with the entire articles of war eliminated, as the point is raised that such a change is not a proper part of the appropriation bill. In that case the bill would probably pass without much debate and get the president's signature at once. Preparations have been made to kill the Owens corrupt practice bill for immediate consideration, should Mr. Owens insist on bringing it before the senate. That must go over to December so practically every one but Mr. Owens concedes. This puts the contested bills down pretty close to the revenue bill and allowing two weeks for that measure, and a week for other expected business, the probable date of Sept. 1 does not look utterly impossible after all.

One thing, however, may change the entire program. If the president should attempt to congress to take a hand in the threatened strike by forcing an eight-hour law, as has been rumored, he might do the action of congress and the date of adjournment would be in the hands of the senate and representatives are shy about talking of the possibility, but make it known they would be strongly against having congress take a hand in the trouble at this moment. It is a safe guess that such a move, the Danish treaty, the corrupt practice act, and the immu-

TRY OIL OF KOREAN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stuffing, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout and advised to go to A. W. Dows & Co., or any good druggist and get a box of oil of Korean capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy. Footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of Korean is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

gration bill will not come up for a vote at the present session, and that the odds and ends of legislation could be cleared up in a few days, after the revenue bill is passed. The president has arranged for his formal notification to be made at Shadowlawn on September and he will go to Kentucky Sept. 4 to attend the Lincoln birthplace celebration, and is extremely anxious the session shall have come to an end before that time. He must be in Washington to adjourn congress and any delay in fixing the date would be annoying to him.

The president's attitude in forcing a compromise that shall prevent a strike of such magnitude as to affect the industries of the entire country, is getting wholesale praise at the hands of men of both parties. The city is full of railroad men, both employers and employees, conferences at the White House and headquarters of the men are frequent. There is a feeling of another heard on the streets, the president's attitude is upheld by the mass of the people.

NEW YORK'S HEAT

Metropolis Threatened With a Heat Record, the Thermometer Registering 83 at 9.30

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Heat records were threatened early today, the mercury in the weather bureau's thermometer registering 83 at 9.30. Prostrations were numerous but no deaths were reported during the morning. Low humidity and a light breeze modified discomfort. The local forecaster promised no immediate relief.

MARRIED AT LAST

PEPPERELL COUPLE HAD TRIAL UNION OF 27 YEARS' DURATION

PEPPERELL, Aug. 22.—Fred and Annie Miller, who have been living together in the trial-marriage state for 27 years, were legally married last evening in the Methodist parsonage, by Rev. W. H. Beers, while practically half the population of the town stood on the veranda, lawn and street and gave the bride and groom a great reception, with ringing of bells, singing and cheering.

The couple was married in the front parlor. They arrived at the parsonage from their home, where they had been living for the occasion by Frank Sullivan. The bridegroom had changed his simple farmer's costume of overalls for a rig that showed he was at heart a Beau Brummel. He wore a brown fedora hat, white tennis shoes, a gray tuxedo, Savoy coat and trousers pressed behind, a white vest and blue bolero tie. The bride's costume was simpler, as befitting her 74 years. (She gave her age as 74 in the marriage license and Fred gave his as 65.) She wore a plum-colored loose waist, with a corsage bouquet of wild daisies, and a simple black and white skirt, with wedding slippers to match. Her hair was slightly waved.

Admires Fred's Nerve

Miss Doris Smith, daughter of the chief of police, stood up with the bride, and O. W. W. of New York, who is touring this part of the country, attended the bridegroom. He admires Fred's nerve. Fred held on to the federal all through the ceremony. The ring was a simple, plain gold band, as the bride was averse to expensive jewelry. She thinks that most young women deck themselves up outrageously to get married.

The Methodist marriage ceremony is rather long and tedious and has to be repeated. Some of the words were too long for Fred, but they got by all right. When the ceremony was ended, word was passed to the crowd outside and a great cheer went up. At the same time, the church bell was rung and the whole town was made aware of the fact that Fred and Annie Miller, after 27 years of trial marriage, were married for good and all. Chief Smith, who was in the parlor, rushed from the house and stopped the ringing of the church bell, but the rest of the popular demonstration was permitted to go on for the chief realized that such an event was not liable to happen soon in the town again. He it was who brought about the marriage. He thought Fred and Annie had been living long enough in the trial-marriage state, and that they ought to know their own minds by this time.

Annie's reason was that Annie was being ardently pursued by another lover, 76 years old, Louis Hickory, who eloped with her about three weeks ago and got as far as Concord, N. H., where the runaways were caught and brought back to Pepperell by Chief Smith. After her return she decided to go back to the old love, Fred Miller, and to make sure she wouldn't run away again, Fred decided to put his trial wife in good old-fashioned matrimonial bondage.

Crowd Expected Hickory

Louis is living at Ayer now. Some people expected him over to the wedding, but it is just as well for his own personal comfort that he didn't show up. For what Fred Miller said he intended to do with him isn't fit for publication. This was one reason for the big crowd at the parsonage. They expected Louis to show up.

After the ceremony, and after the happy couple had been kissed and congratulated, Fred and his wife stepped out and got another cheer. Then they entered the limousine with the attendants and Chief Smith and were driven to the Miller home. Over the front door they found a sign that had been nailed up in their absence, which read:

We are married.
Fred Miller and wife.
But something else had been happening during their brief absence, for the Miller home was all lit up and the newly weds were greeted by Mrs. Clara M. Smith, wife of the chief of police; Mrs. Leroy Shattuck and Mrs. Alta Shattuck, who had prepared a wedding cake on a table which was decorated with vases, goldenrod and other wild flowers. After the supper the bride showed them a crazy quilt she had made herself, a work of love on which she had labored for months in anticipation of this event. She had made it long before Louis Hickory came into her life.

Fred and Annie are now one. She fed the chickens before she dressed for the marriage ceremony and Fred finished a little job in the garden. Hence the picture.

RUSSIAN TROOPS NOW AT SALONIKI

The Italians Continue to Pour in— Rumania With 800,000 Troops is Ready for War—Greeks Forced Into Engagement With Bulgarians—Big Offensive Move Expected

The offensive in the Balkans is in full swing, with Russian troops arriving to fight with the entente forces and Rumania reported about ready to join in the war on the side of the allies.

Landing of Italian troops, who are also to take part in the operations, is continuing. An unofficial despatch also reports that Greek troops have become involved in the fighting, having been engaged with Bulgarians in the vicinity of Seres, northeast of Saloniki.

Athens advices, received today indicate that Russian troops have been in the Balkans for more than three weeks, the initial contingent having, apparently, arrived at Saloniki sometime previous to July 31, the news of their coming having been just released by the entente censorship.

The arrival of Russian detachments at Saloniki, together with yesterday's announcement that Italian troops had landed there, is another indication that the entente allies have decided to concentrate on this front forces sufficient for an important campaign.

It is about 350 miles in an air line from the Russian to the Greek border at their nearest points, but Rumania and Bulgaria lie between them, and to bridge the distance separating these countries the Russians were obliged to travel thousands of miles. As the Bosphorus is closed by the Turks to the Russians, they were deprived of the short sea route and it is possible they traveled by the Atlantic route and reached Saloniki by way of Gibraltar and the Mediterranean. Today's despatches regarding the military developments on the Macedonian front indicate that the engagement is becoming general all along the 150 mile line.

Immediately to the north of Saloniki, in the Doiran region, Serbian troops are reported to have captured two forts, while in the heaviest fighting so far reported on the left bank of the Struma, northeast of Saloniki, the Anglo French forces are attacking the Bulgarians to the northwest of Seres.

On the western end of the line the Bulgarians are not only advancing, some of which are conceded by the entente military authorities. Their forces have pressed southward from Florina, occupying Kastoria and Koritsa, the former town being 30 miles southwest of Florina.

For the moment at least, the operations on the eastern and western fronts are overshadowed by those in the Balkans. The entente offensive, however, is proceeding uninterruptedly on both these fronts. In northern France the French have resumed infantry activity along the Somme, capturing trenches near Estrées and Soyecourt, south of the river. They also have made progress north of the stream, in the outskirts of Clercy, which village is an important immediate objective of the French in their drive for Peronne.

The British on the Somme front are slowly creeping nearer to Thiéval, on their left flank, their latest advance bringing them within one thousand yards of the place. They also report a considerable gain of ground near Pozieres, where they have pushed forward along a half mile front. Guilleumont, northwest of Combles, is still holding out, although the British are fast hemming it in and report the Germans in the town suffering heavily from the allied artillery fire.

Petrograd reports the situation unchanged in Galicia, Volhynia and the Carpathian region, but claims the gain of further ground from the Turks in southern Turkish Armenia, west of Lake Van. In Persia the Russians, who have been driven back a considerable distance in recent operations, now appear to be making a successful stand against the Turkish forces.

PETROGRAD REPORTS RUSSIAN ARMY GAINING GROUND FROM TURKS

PETROGRAD, Aug. 22, via London.—The Russian army of the Caucasus has gained further ground from the Turks, occupying a considerable territory west of Lake Van, in Armenia, the war office announced today. On the main battle front, in Russia and Galicia, there is no change. The statement follows:

"On the western front the situation is unchanged. In the Caucasus the fighting in the direction of Diarbekir is developing favorably to us. We occupied a considerable portion of enemy territory west of Lake Van, where an entire company of the 11th regiment fell into our hands."

"West of Euphrates we captured ten officers, one physician and 215 Askaris as well as four machine guns and three light guns."

"In Persia our detachments defeated Turkish cavalry in the region of Uchun. Near Xalapasava we drove the enemy a considerable distance westward."

ROUMANIA WITH HALF A MIL- LION TROOPS TO CAST HER LOT WITH ALLIES

LONDON, Aug. 22.—The opening of the allied offensive at Saloniki has been the signal for renewed reports that Rumania is at last about to throw in her lot with the entente. These reports are more circumstantial than ever before, and the comments in the German press indicate that they are far from being devoid of foundation. One Berlin newspaper goes so far as to declare that Rumania has already joined the allies and that plans are being laid for the march of a Russian army through Rumanian territory.

Major Morath, the famous German military critic, also believes that Rumania is negotiating with Russia and hints at an ultimatum to Bucharest from Germany and Austria.

The entry of Rumania into the war on the side of the entente would mean the forging of another link in the chain of forces surrounding the central powers. The material aid which Rumania could give would be very important. She has between 500,000 and 600,000 troops mobilized for nearly a year and her army is reported to be one of the best equipped and trained in Europe. Apart from possible Russian reinforcement, Rumania would be in a position to deal a powerful blow at Bulgaria from the north in conjunction with the allies' drive from the south.

It has been generally understood that Russia has been willing to cede the province of Bessarabia, the population of which is largely Rumanian, in return for Rumanian co-operation in the war. Bessarabia is 18,000 square miles in extent and has a population of nearly 2,000,000.

BERLIN REPORTS RUSSIANS FOR- CING WAY ACROSS THE CARPATHIANS

BERLIN, Aug. 22, (By wireless to Sayville).—The Russians are continuing efforts to force their way across the Carpathians through the pass south of Kolomea, near the Bukovina. Rumania, but are meeting with effective resistance from the Teutonic troops there, according to the Austro-Hungarian statement of August 21.

The situation in Galicia north of the Dniester river is reported quiet, while the Russians are declared to have failed in their attempts to gain ground on the west bank of the Stokhod in Volhynia.

WOMAN SPY EXECUTED ON CON- VICTION BY COUNCIL OF WAR

PARIS, August 22.—The execution of a woman as a spy is reported today in a Havas despatch from Marseilles. According to this information, Felice Piaf was put to death this morning at the lighthouse shooting range, having been convicted of espionage by the council of war of the fifteenth region.

GREEKS AND BULGARIANS EN- GAGED AT SERES SINCE SUNDAY

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Greek troops have been fighting the Bulgarians in the vicinity of Seres, since Sunday morning, says an Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company. The Greek commander at Seres has called to arms all the reservists in that locality, says the despatch. That the fighting is of a stubborn character is indicated by the fact that a large number of Greek soldiers have been killed.

It was stated in a Paris despatch yesterday, that the fourth Greek army corps had fallen back from Seres as well as from Kavala and Drama. Seres is an important city of about 30,000 population, 45 miles northeast of Saloniki.

SOFIA WAR OFFICE REPORTS GENERAL OFFENSIVE BY BULGARIANS

BERLIN, Aug. 22, (By wireless to Sayville).—Official announcement is made by the Sofia war office that on August 18 the Bulgarian left wing began a general offensive, advancing in the Struma valley, occupying Dimit Hisar and establishing itself on the left bank of the Struma after repulsing the British and French near Seres.

LONDON REPORTS BRITISH TROOPS ADVANCING ALONG THE SOMME

LONDON, Aug. 22, 3.29 p. m.—British troops on the Somme front have advanced along a line a half mile long in the region of Pozieres and have also made an advance near Leipsall, it was officially announced today.

FRENCH WAR OFFICE DESCRIBES MOVEMENT OF TROOPS ON THE SOMME

PARIS, Aug. 22, 12.26 p. m.—Progress was made by the French last night on the Somme front north of the river, in the outskirts of Clercy, the war office announced today. South of the river the French captured trenches near Estrées and Soyecourt.

The announcement follows: "North of the Somme the artillery continued to be active on a large portion of the front. During the night we made some progress in the outskirts of Clercy. In the wood which our troops took on August 20, south of Guilleumont, we captured two more field guns, bringing up to eight the number of guns which fell into our hands in this engagement."

"South of the Somme minor operations enabled us to occupy several portions of trenches southwest of Estrées and east of Soyecourt. We took prisoners."

"Northwest of Soissons one of our detachments succeeded in carrying out a surprise attack on a German trench on Vimy plateau. The night was calm on the remainder of the front."

"Yesterday one of our pilots brought down an Albatross aeroplane which crashed to the earth near Languevoison, near Nesles. Furthermore, four enemy biplanes were attacked at close quarters by our aviators but they fled in a damaged condition."

"Last night one of our aerial squadrons dropped 79 bombs on the railway stations and lines of Tergnier and Noyon, on the water station of Pont-à-Veque, and on the station at Appilly. Our aviators report that severe fires were caused. All our aeroplanes returned undamaged."

RUSSIA CONFERS CROSS OF ST. GEORGE ON VERDUN THROUGH ITS MAYOR

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The Russian government has conferred the Cross of St. George upon the city of Verdun in recognition of its heroic defense. A despatch from Petrograd says a delegation will leave the Russian capital this week to present the decoration to the mayor of Verdun, as representative of the city.

KING VICTOR EMMANUEL ENTERS GORITIA UNDER FIRE OF AUSTRIAN ARTILLERY

UDINE, Italy, Sunday, Aug. 20, via Paris, Aug. 22.—King Victor Emmanuel entered Gorizia today under the fire of the Austrian artillery. Lucilio bridge, which he crossed to enter the city, continued to be the object of relentless shelling by the Austrian guns, but, mindful of the danger taken determined to make a personal visit to the captured city.

The king went to the city hall, where he inquired regarding the measures which have been taken to restore the civil life of the city. Girls working in the vicinity of the Austrian guns, his presence and improvised a manifestation in his honor. News of the royal visit spread throughout the city and there was a demonstration as the king's automobile passed through the city.

CARDINAL LUCON REMAINS AT CATHEDRAL OF RHEIMS AND WILL NOT DESERT CITY

RHEIMS, France, Aug. 22, via Paris.—An inspection of the famous church of Stremy shows that it was damaged in numerous places by the recent bombardment which destroyed the civil hospital. Cardinal Lucon is among those who still remain here. He was found on Sunday alone and kneeling in prayer on a heap of debris from the cathedral.

In spite of the noise of the cannonading, the cardinal declared he intended to remain in Rheims and would not desert the city under any circumstances. At the same time Monsignor Glinisty, bishop of Verdun, who since the bombardment of that citadel has been staying at Bar-le-Duc, celebrated mass in Vassincourt, which was the scene of bloody combats in September, 1914. Ringing of bells announced the arrival of the bishop of the frontier as he is known. Monsignor Glinisty delivered a stirring address on victory, which he said, is "Promised and assured."

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Yesterday's spectacular advance in U. S. Steel to the record price of 95, was resumed at opening of today's market. The first transaction comprised 10,000 shares at 95 1/2, followed by hundred shares lots at 95 1/2, to 96, from which it descended to 96 1/2. There were extensive initial dealings also in marine preferred, Reading, American Smelt, and American Locomotive, Anaconda, and Republic Steel, all at fractional gains. These were generally increased later with special strength in Crucible, Lackawanna and Bethlehem Steels, the latter gaining 7 1/2 points after a slight reaction. Rails, especially the Illinois were strong.

MATTY ZIESER WAS WILD

New London Made Only One Hit
But Scored Four Runs on Eight
Bases on Balls

Special to The Sun.
NEW LONDON, Aug. 22.—Zieser's wildness was responsible for all New London's runs in the game with Lowell played at Plant field yesterday afternoon and the Planters came through on the long end of a 4-3 score. Lowell collected six hits off Paddy Martin's delivery for a total of two runs while the Planters only connected safely once, this being a single in the first inning by Marhefka. Zieser gave way to Smith in the last of the seventh after the first hurler had walked four men and hit one.

Lowell started off with a rush and in the first inning three hits gave them a total of two runs. Dee made his first appearance in New London by cracking out a single to left in his first trip to the plate. After Kane had fanned, Simpson came across with a single and was immediately followed by Parker who dropped one in the same place. Dee scoring. Helfrich went out, Dowd to Rodriguez, and the side retired.

Without the assistance of a hit, base or sacrifice, the Planters failed in the second, while Zieser was throwing Whitehouse out at first. O'Dell walked and Fish was batted in the back with the pill. While working on Martin, Zieser uncorked a wild pitch and the Cuban scored. Martin hit to Dee, who forced O'Dell and Becker fanned.

The big slaughter came in the fifth when the Planters failed to connect with the ball safely but scored three runs. Martin went out and Becker walked and later stole second. Dowd walked and Weiser was safe when Helfrich threw Dowd out at second. Becker going to third. Weiser stole second and Marhefka walked filling the sacks. Rodriguez drew a free ticket to first base on balls. Zieser batted Whitehouse in the sixth with the ball forcing in Weiser and laying Whitehouse flat on his back. After working over the center fielder and getting him on his feet. Umpire Ready announced that Smith would be the hitting for Lowell. He started by walking O'Dell forcing in Marhefka.

SHRINERS HONOR SPOKE

3000 OF THEM ATTENDED GAME
IN BOSTON—KNIGHTS OF CO.
LUMBUS ALSO PRESENT

About 3000 Shriners attended the Boston-Cleveland game at Fenway park, Boston, yesterday, to honor Tristram Speaker and Lawrence Gardner, both professional ball players high in the mystery of the order. There were no presentations or anything to mark the progress of the game as the exercises came afterward at Shirley field. However, the Shriners were present in all their splendor and cheered Speaker, Gardner and the Boston team. The Shriners' Five, Drum and Bagge corps of 60 pieces furnished music. After the game Speaker was presented a life membership to Boston temple.

Not to be outdone, about 300 members of Boston council, Knights of Columbus, attended the game as guests of President Lannan, Secretary Edward Riley, who is a member of Boston council, was presented a gold and enamel Knights of Columbus charm by his brother members.

DEADLOCK IN BIG DEAL

CUBS WANT STALLINGS TO GIVE
MARANVILLE IN EXCHANGE
FOR HEINE ZIMMERMAN

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Negotiations for a trade between the Braves and Cubs, involving the transfer of Heine Zimmerman to Boston, reached a deadlock after Manager Stallings had conferred for hours with Pres. Weeghman and Manager Tinker.

The Boston offer for Zimmerman, although it was not given out, fell short of what the Cub management considered an equivalent for the third baseman, and a counter-offer by Manager Tinker to trade Zimmerman for Maranville did not prove acceptable to Stallings.

The Cub's outfield problem was settled temporarily yesterday by the signing of Artie Hoffman, ex-Cub and recently with the Yankees, to fill in until the recovery of Joe Kelly, who is suffering from a twisted ankle.

The Boston club is still in the competition for Zimmerman. Manager Robinson and Pres. Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Nationals renewed negotiations yesterday, but the Brooklyn offer, it was said, was no more acceptable to the Cub management than Boston's.

RECALLS SHANNON TWINS

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The Shannon twins, Maurice and Joe, who were members of the New Haven Eastern league club for a while, are to get another chance with the Boston Braves. Manager George T. Stallings of the Braves wired to President James T. Collins of the New Haven club asking permission to use the Shannon boys in exhibition games. He stated the loss of Evers and Fitzpatrick made it necessary to acquire new players, and he wanted to again try out the Shannons. President Collins wired his permission for Boston to use the Shannons. The twins recently jumped the New Haven club because they were jeered for being instrumental in the loss of a game.

HUB COAST GUARDS

MADE RECORD FOR MARKSMANSHIP
WITH BIG GUNS IN BOS-
TON HARBOR

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—National guardsmen of the Sixth company, coast artillery corps of this state, claimed a record for marksmanship with big guns today with the announcement today of the official report of service shooting from the harbor forts. The company was credited with two clean hits at six and one half miles out of three shots which were fired in 2 minutes 48 seconds. The first shot came within ten yards of being a hit. Colonel E. Dwight Fullerton, commander of the corps, said he had never heard of a better performance.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Lawrence Mfg. Co. team clearly demonstrated that it is a strong contender for the championship honors of the city Saturday by defeating the strong St. John's team of North Chelmsford. Rice, the hostelry pitcher, had an easy time with the boys from the suburban town and Sturtevant was hit hard and timely. The score was 7 to 0. Manager Riley of the hostelry boys, waiting for an answer from Manager Lyons of the Pitts' South Ends for a three game series at Spalding park.

VALUABLE PLAYER IN AM. LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—"Who is the most valuable player to his club in the American league?" asks a local baseball expert. Most fans in Detroit would pick Ty Cobb. Many in Cleveland will contend Tris Speaker deserves the prestige. Many may be found in every city in the circuit who would single out Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox as the player deserving this honor. For all around play Schalk undoubtedly has no equal among the backstops of the American and probably the National league. It is one characteristic that marks him as a leader in his department. Whistling, dancing, aggressive, ever alert, Schalk has no peer in the American league. He does everything just a little better than his rivals. President Comiskey couldn't afford to trade Schalk for Speaker or Cobb, and this leads to an astounding fact in this young athlete's remarkable baseball career. The Sox owner could have signed Schalk at the paltry waiver price of $1500 in 1911. He tapped his bank account to the amount of $12,500 for Schalk's release in 1912.

BEST TEAM IN LEAGUE

Portland's Averages Show Why
Team is Leading in Eastern
League Race

Three clubs gained in hitting and fell, Lynn and New London played constant in fielding in the Eastern league during the week. Portland, Lawrence and Hartford each improved their former batting average, while Springfield and New Haven gained a point each in fielding since the former figures were compiled last week. The pace-setting Duffs remain the best all-around sluggers in the circuit, while New London retains its place at the top of the circuit in fielding. Portland is now hitting for a team average of .263, while the Millionaires are sporting a fielding average of .953.

Worcester, Springfield and Bridgeport were the only teams that lost ground in hitting. The Red Sox and Municipal City outfit, each had a few points clipped off their fielding figures, and were the only clubs that slumped in defensive playing. Lowell

The Bunting club will observe members' day next Saturday and although this event in previous years has been one which never failed to attract a large attendance, monster arrangements have been made for this year's affair and it bids fair to eclipse former events.

The events are open to all who attend, with the exception of those marked for members only. Valuable prizes are offered to the winners. The two-mile bicycle race will bring out quite a few riders, and the three-mile sleepchase, which includes six flights of hurdles, 30 inches high, will be two interesting races. Other events include members' race (once around the track) 300-yards race for boys, 100-yards race for girls, 50-yards race for married women, 50-yards race for women over 18 years, 75-yards skipping rope race for girls, 100-yards race for members over 30 years, 100-yards race for members only, and bowling at the wicket.

GRAND CIRCUIT

A New Two-Year-Old
Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22.—Starting in her first race at the Grand Circuit meeting here yesterday, The Real Lady, owned by A. H. Cosgrove of New York, and bred by the late L. V. Harkness, won the American Horse Breeders' Futurity for two-year-olds in 2:05 1/2 and 2:10. It was the fastest race ever trotted by a two-year-old the first time out, and the fastest save one ever credited to a filly of this age.

With Mary Coburn, Harvest Gale and Will Bing among the starters, there was heavy betting on the race. Auction pools sold at $200 for The Real Lady, $120 for Mary Coburn, $5 for Will Bing and $20 for the field. Thomas W. Murphy of Poughkeepsie, who drove the winner, did not have to disclose the limit of her speed, though she stepped the last half of her first mile in 1:14 1/2 and the last quarter of the second heat in 30 1/2, a 2:01 1/2.

Jay Ell Mack, a fleet young pacer owned by Robert McAfee of Pittsburgh, won the 2:05 race in impressive style driven by Murphy. Miss Harria M. won the 2:07 race, but had to go to her limit to beat Roan Hal and Billy Day.

Directum I, owned by M. E. Sturges of New York and driven by Murphy, which started to beat the record at a mile and a furlong, paced the distance in 2:16 1/2. The previous record was 2:20. The summary:

FATIMA

A Sensible
CigaretteComfortable—
that's why they're sensible.

As you've probably noticed, it is the keen, active-minded type of man who is particular to choose Fatimas. If you were smoking Fatimas, you would know why. You would find that Fatimas, more than any other cigarette, are comfortable while you smoke and after you smoke them.

Their delicately balanced Turkish blend makes them a sensible cigarette to smoke. Why not prove this for yourself?

EASTERN LEAGUE COMMENT

Harford at Lowell tomorrow.

Winning baseball games on one hit is almost a record.

Matty Zieser continues to have that one-bat inning when he can't control the old base on balls.

The lone hit made off Zieser came in the first inning. Both Matty and Smith held the Planters hitless thereafter.

Stimpson found Paddy Martin for a brace of singles in four times up.

Rodriguez, the Cuban first sacker, secured a free pass to first on every time at bat.

Zieser was benched in favor of Smith after he had knocked out a hitter with a rib breaker.

McQuillan, the young Worcester pitcher, had the better of Tuckey yesterday. He allowed only two runs. Worcester's lead is now down to two full games.

Worcester, the left handed first baseman who was released by Bridgeport because he could not hit, is leading the Worcester sluggers according to the latest averages.

Gaston, Portland's star catcher, is still out of the game and Chet Sweet is doing all the backstopping with Famm filling in at second.

Walt Hoyt, the Lynn 16-year-old pitcher, is now doing good work for the Planters. He allowed Bridgeport but five hits yesterday.

Pitcher Frank Gilmore of Bridgeport, who was formerly with Lawrence, has been released by the latter. Gilmore has been asked to send a report to Secretary Farrell, Gilmore is the third to come into the league collecting from the Lawrence team, the others being Jesse Burkett and Alex Pearson.

A report from New Haven says that

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE. The photo play entitled, "The Unborn," presented at the Merrimack Square theatre last evening under the direction of the manager, is simply an ingenious method of promoting the propaganda of birth control under various disguises. It is true that the sufferings of betrayed girls is shown in a manner that must arouse in the minds of the spectators the deepest sympathy for them and the most supreme contempt for the scoundrels who betray them, but at the same time the office of the doctor who is engaged in malpractice is held in prominence as if it were a source of relief from the disease that such a misfortune brings upon the victim.

There are quotations from scripture such as: "Whosoever a man loveth that loveth hisself," and there are admonitions to virtue and condemnations to vice; but side by side with these is given a quotation from Emerson about the injustice of confining the knowledge of birth control to the upper or educated classes who are unwilling to assume the responsibility of teaching the masses. In this photo play a scamp cultivates the acquaintance of an innocent country girl until he wins her heart and marries her, then marries her of high social position. After a year or two, while the husband was longing for children, she told him that if he had weiser, the hard hitting left fielder of the New York team, had jumped the club but he is still in his old position. Manager McCann, who is trying out several youngsters for next year, gave Kelley a Springfield semi-professional a chance and Bud took a day off.

Dan O'Neill of the Eastern League recently took up the matter of suspending the schedule on Labor day with Secretary Farrell of the National who ruled that the league must finish out the season or the players will be free agents. His ruling follows:

"All players must be paid in full to date of originally adopted schedule in order to be subject to reservation. The board on one occasion permitted a league to pay the salaries of the players up to date it closed the season, declaring players who were paid in full to date free agents, and permitted league to pay a number of players full salary to the close of the originally adopted schedule and reserve them. In your case, however, objection might be raised under the rule which provides that a territory must be occupied and operated in order to be held."

The Lowell team will return tomorrow to the road trip with Hartford as the visiting guest. The cellar position in the league will be at stake unless Hartford can win the game on Tuesday.

Manager McDonald, a veteran catcher who is very popular in the Connecticut cities, will lead the Hartford team on Tuesday. He is the fourth general to appear here in charge of the Senators this season, his predecessors being Helme Wagner, George Sires and Jesse Burkett. But one game will be played.

Lowell will have its first and only open date Aug. 31 when New London will also take a day off. Other open dates in the Eastern league are as follows: Wednesday, Sept. 5, Lawrence and Springfield; Tuesday, Sept. 12, Sept. 14, Springfield and Portland; Friday, Sept. 15, London and Bridgeport and Springfield and Worcester.

Whether it was because of the unusual publicity given the production or the salacious nature of the production, a crowd of people that extended from the inner door of the Owl theatre out to the curb sweltered in the heat last evening awaiting an opportunity to get inside the theatre to witness the sensational motion picture "Damaged Goods" concerning which so much has been written. The play, by Barton, came to the Opera House three years ago, when the production was being discussed pro and con by press and public. Then along came "Upstairs" story, drawn from the play which was as slushy as regards words as Sinclair could make it. And now comes the film production which costars owners, Messrs. Allen and Murphy, a cool $25,000. The film production entirely eliminates the spoken word, which was so offensive to some critics in the play, and but comparatively little is thrown on the screen, the pictures speaking for themselves. The theme is the same, to need any explanation at this time. It deals with a subject the existence of which the world would like to forget, but unfortunately which exists nevertheless. The plot or story of the production which while itself a fiction, is built upon facts known to medical science. As a film production it may be said to be a masterpiece, for the greatest attention has been given to elaborateness of detail, and evidently no money was spared in producing it.

While the show is of the sensational character, its effect is to instill a horror of vice and, therefore, to put men and women on their guard of it rather than to sow the seeds of vice or to incite to the commission of the crime. The picture which meets with approval from all critics is the manner in which it handles and shows up the quick in the make easy money on the gullible sick.

H. P. KENT'S THEATRE. The last chances to see Douglas Fairbanks in pictures, at the H. P. Kent's theatre, this season, come today and tomorrow. The brand new picture production called "Reggie and His Friends" is a high class comedy, with a neat touch of sentiment, and with some delicate plotting. The interest, the main one being the presence of the redoubtable Fairbanks, who has got a rumble going among the discriminating picture lovers.

Fairbanks is in his own medium in this picture, and it is suspected that much of the comedy is depending upon his own personal characteristics. The picture shows the ups and downs of life.

"Reggie Van Deuzen," who lives with an aunt and who has had a routine of life, by chance his himself to Gallagher's dance hall, just to see what is going on there.

Agua does her demostrofa his wonderful athletic ability, and in the closing scenes he engages in a game of football which is a masterpiece of the story shows the ups and downs of life.

part, placed under arrest, during her quest of the murderer of "Brenau," it was by accident that, during a visit to the night court, she sees the man she believes killed her lover, and when he is discharged for a trifling offense, she follows him into a place of usual character. "Dr. Royce," a part played by Henry Kolker, follows her into the place, whereupon a riot starts and everybody is placed under arrest. And in the meantime, the man who is shadowed escapes. There are many other unusual turns to this story.

"Arbuckle's Cup of Wine," with Black Swan and Faye Emory playing the big parts, is a speedy Keystone picture, with complications galore, and with the usual destructive finish to it. Swan plays the part of a farmer whose farm is heavily mortgaged, and Miss Emory is the wife who, to lift the mortgage, becomes an artist's model. A very clever younger sister and brother in this picture, and also a trained pig. There are several other and shorter pictures, the best of which is a Sis Hopkins subject.

"WHERE ARE MY CHILDREN?" Twice rejected by the board of censors as highly improper, but endorsed by Dr. Parkhurst and Rev. John J. Hughes, Paullist superior, "Where Are My Children?" was given without the approval of recognized censors at the Globe theatre, New York, where it ran for two months to packed houses. It has been presented in Boston all summer in spite of the threat of a party of opinion that it would be a disgrace to the city. The picture is a masterpiece of the genre, and it is a pity that it is not shown in this city.

Walton, the principal character (Tyron Power), is a prosecutor of the pleas of his district. He loves children and is the father of a family of five. With practitioners who destroy life at his very source, he has no patience, and he is a doctor who is a doctor in name only. Finally he is sent to prison for 15 years, and the convict in the place of his own wife, Walton, has been a profitable "patient."

This affords a pathetic and tragic denouement to the story. The play is a society women, a seal of the medical profession, who sincerely and honestly believes in birth control. The doctor, who is a doctor in name only, is a doctor who is a doctor in name only. Finally he is sent to prison for 15 years, and the convict in the place of his own wife, Walton, has been a profitable "patient."

IN POLICE COURT

Young Man Fined $50 for Assaulting Officers of the Law

Joseph Poole, a young man who resides in the vicinity of Liberty square where there has been considerable trouble of late, was arraigned before Judge Fisher in police court this morning on complaints charging him with assault and battery on Constable Henry Thompson and assault and battery on Patrolman Patrick Noonan.

According to the testimony offered by Patrolman Noonan, he was arresting Poole's brother in Liberty square on the night of July 29th, he having received a notification from headquarters that the man was wanted for suspicion of larceny. While making the arrest he was assisted by Patrolman McNally when Joseph Poole and a crowd of young men gathered around the officers and attempted to rescue the man under arrest. Patrolman Noonan drew his club and Joseph Poole, it is alleged, grabbed it out of his hand. The arresting officer then gave his key to the patrolman but before the latter was able to send in the alarm Poole pushed him away.

Poole admitted that he protested against the arrest of his brother and said he grabbed Patrolman Noonan's club because he thought the officer was going to use it on his brother. He denied laying his hand on Constable Thompson. Judge Fisher in summing up the evidence said that it is a very serious matter to interfere with an officer in the discharge of his duty but owing to certain circumstances connected with the case he would impose a fine of $50 instead of a direct sentence. Poole was fined $50 for assault upon Constable Thompson and $30 for assault upon the officer. George F. Toye appeared for the defendant.

The Court Was Lenient

John T. Conlon was charged with drunkenness, larceny of an automobile belonging to Dr. H. Smith, operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and also operating an automobile without a license. Through his counsel, George F. Toye, he pleaded guilty to being drunk and not guilty to the other complaints.

Dr. Forster H. Smith left his automobile in Merrimack square last Thursday night and when he returned he found it had disappeared. It seems that shortly after parking the machine in front of Barlow's market, Conlon came along and with the assistance of three other young men pushed the machine over to the garage in East Merrimack street where he succeeded in having one of the mechanics get it going. He then operated the car through East Merrimack street but the car got stalled on the hill near the corner of High street.

Patrolman John Sullivan was passing through the street a little while later and finding Conlon asleep in the machine arrested him for drunkenness, but later the other complaints were preferred against him.

Conlon, who resides in North Cambridge, informed the court that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and knew little or nothing of what he did. He said he never operated an automobile. In fact he admitted that whatever the arresting officer said might be true for he did not know what he was doing.

The court found the defendant guilty and gave him a suspended sentence of one month in jail for larceny, the other complaints being placed on file.

A Thief of Time

Francis J. O'Brien was charged with drunkenness and the larceny of a watch valued at $1, the property of Charles Gagnon. Francis denied the allegation, but the court found the defendant guilty on both complaints and placed the case on file.

What the sick want is to get well. They do not care whether they are cured by the most scientific physician or the most unlearned neighbor—they don't care how they are cured, if only they get well.

For forty years women suffering from female ills have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have been getting well; and because they have got well, that great medicine continues to have a sale equalled by that of few proprietary preparations.

placed the larceny case on file, but on the charge of drunkenness he was sentenced to two months in jail. Owing to the fact that the complainant is very hard of hearing and there had been a mixup in securing the Christian name of the defendant, it was necessary to make out a new complaint.

O'Brien when arrested said his first name was Frank but afterwards said it was Francis and when asked in court this morning what his name was he said he did not know but thought that it must be Francis.

According to the testimony offered, the complainant and defendant with several others were drinking in a saloon in Central street, yesterday afternoon, when O'Brien grabbed an Ingersoll out of Gagnon's trousers pocket and was trying to make a getaway through an alley in the rear of the saloon when he was grabbed by two men and held until Patrolman O'Keefe arrived on the scene and placed O'Brien under arrest.

O'Brien, testifying in his own behalf, said that he was in the saloon drinking with Gagnon, they both went to "hook" and Gagnon told him to "hook" the watch. He said he was starting for a pawnshop when he was arrested.

Disturbed Funeral Procession

Paul A. Borgossian, through his counsel Frank Goldman, entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with interrupting a funeral procession but owing to the fact that the complainant in the case did not care about pressing the matter, the case was placed on file upon the payment of costs of court. Undertaker Charles H. Moley was driving a funeral through Gorham street last Friday when Borgossian, who was in an automobile, passed through the funeral procession.

Other Offenders

There were several offenders before the court. One man who was arrested on a capias for the non-payment of a $5 fine agreed to pay $12 within a month and he was placed on probation on condition that he carry out the order of the court.

A woman who made her fifth appearance within a year was given a suspended sentence of two months in jail. Another drunk was given a suspended sentence to the state farm.

Case Continued

The case of John E. Boyle, charged with assault and battery on John J. Hart, Sunday, was continued until Thursday by agreement of counsel.

Assault at Crystal Lake

Manuel Costa Frank, charged with assault and battery on Manuel Amico entered a plea of not guilty, but the testimony had been given. The court found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10. Both men met at Crystal Lake Sunday afternoon and as a result of fooling by flushing water at each other and indulging in other frivolities, the men were struck. Costa struck him four or five times on the nose. The men were separated before any serious damage was done.

Neglect of Family

John Galvin entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with neglecting his family. During the course of the hearing the defendant and his wife accused each other of being to blame. The court after hearing the testimony in the case found Galvin guilty and continued disposition for thirty days.

COAL HAS ADVANCED

BUT NOT TOWARD THE CELLAR—HIGH COST OF LIVING STILL CLIMBING

An increase of 25 cents per ton in the retail price of anthracite coal went into effect in this city this morning and the new rates will continue indefinitely.

According to the new schedule broken coal is now selling for $8.75 per ton and egg is $9; stove and No. 1 nut coal have gone up to $9.25, No. 2 nut is $8.50, $9.50; Franklin, $10.50; No. 1 Buckwheat, $6.50; Cumberland, $8 and Channel, $12.

Local people need not be surprised at the increase for several weeks ago it was forecasted that an advance would go into effect on or before the first of September. The reason for the increase in price is said to be due to the shortage of labor in the mines. It is stated that no mine in the anthracite region at the present time has more than 60 per cent. of its usual help at work.

DEATH OF DANIEL MAY

The state police, at the request of the Ayer police, have started an investigation into the death of Daniel May, the stone cutter who was found dead near his shack in Graniteville Sunday. After the discovery of the body an examination showed that the man's watch and week's pay were missing.

Yesterday morning the staples holding the lock of May's shack were pulled out and the room was in disorder. In one corner of the shack a table, was found a Lowell bank book which belonged to May. This had not been there the previous night, the police claim.

Two of May's fellow workers told the police that they had passed the victim's shack on Saturday night and saw May through the window. The man, apparently in a stupor, had muttered something about some one trying to take his watch and money. Two laborers who occupied a shack near May's, but not those above referred to, have been missing from Graniteville since the discovery of May's death.

ANOTHER HARVARD VICTORY

An automobile belonging to the Reliable Parcel Delivery Co. crashed into the rear of one of the heavy trucks of the Harvard Brewing Co. in Davis square about 3.30 o'clock this morning, and as a result the front end of the automobile was damaged but the truck escaped injury.

The automobile was traveling through Gorham street and upon reaching the corner of Central the operator in order to avoid striking another vehicle made a quick turn and crashed into the rear of the truck. None of the persons who figured in the accident was injured.

was to voice her objections to the unwholesome condition of Pollard avenue, which runs from Paige street to John street. This avenue is nothing more than a driveway which runs between the buildings in Merrimack street, from the waiting room to John street, and the buildings in Paige street.

Adjoining this avenue, which was described as an alley, are stores of all kinds, dwelling houses and a couple of restaurants. Mrs. White called attention to the rubbish and garbage that was allowed to remain in the rear of some of these buildings and appealed to His Honor to take some action to remedy these conditions immediately. Particularly in the rear of the Chinese restaurant the conditions are unbearable, said the women, and until this spot is cleaned out the avenue will be a black spot on the city.

After hearing the women's protests on this place, Mayor O'Donnell said that he would ask to the trustees of the building asking them to have the property looked after more carefully and he suggested that the Special Aid committee do likewise. This seemed to be satisfactory to Mrs. White, who stated that the committee would communicate with the trustees, who are Frank E. Dunbar and Joseph Nesmith.

Brook then scolded the police department for the conditions that are allowed to continue on First street, where she resides. She said that First street and the banks of the Merrimack river in that section are a haven for drunken men and lewd girls who remain there under the influence of liquor without hardly any interference on the part of the police. Mrs. Brock asked the mayor the name of the patrolman on the First street beat, claiming that whenever she inquired she is informed that the officer is sick. The mayor said that this was true as Horace Clement, who made a very good policeman for the beat, is ill at the present time.

Mrs. Brock asked why these disgraceful conditions are allowed to go on. The mayor answered that 10 more policemen are needed.

"Are you short of policemen to protect the city?" queried Mrs. White.

"We are literally short," answered the mayor.

His Honor answered that at the first of each year when appropriations are asked for such things as putting on additional patrolmen, the tax payers make a great howl because they will cost more money despite the fact that the city is badly in need of them. His Honor said that the council was being two fires when the matter of making appropriations came up. The improvements are always badly needed but the tax payers complain if the money is voted.

Speaking of the conditions of streets and alleys again, Mrs. White said that the police officers did not seem to be doing their duty relative to enforcing the laws compelling people to keep their property clean and she asked the mayor why he as head of the police department did not command the policemen on all beats to give the matter serious consideration.

His Honor replied that he had received no co-operation whatever from the superintendent of police relative to this work. He explained that he had written to the superintendent after Mrs. White's first visit to his office but had received no reply.

After nearly an hour's conference the women left the office to await the reply of the trustees of the Nesmith property which they think needs immediate attention.
